NOTICE TO MARINERS.

SUNKEN REEF, NEW HEBRIDES.

CAPTAIN GOODALL of the schooner "May Queen," reports the existence of a sunken Coral Reef—upon which he got a cast of 18 ft. at low water—in latitude 13° 46' 30" S., longitude 167° 19' 30" E., 1½ miles from the western side of Vanua Lava, and bearing from the North Cascade S.E. by S. ½ S. The reef is about ¼ of a cable in extent, and has 12 fathoms water, all round it.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

CUMBERLAND ISLANDS.

THE Master of the ship "Lady Douglas" reports the existence of a Coral Reef, drying at low water, and extending from the westward of the southernmost "Sand P. D." to K 4½ Isle, and "Sand and Rocks" to the eastward, and thus connecting the Islet and Sand banks.

REEF, WALKER BAY—BETWEEN WALKER AND MONKHOUSE POINTS.

Masters of Vessels are cautioned that in Walker Bay, rocks dry at low water extend out to the edge of the shoal water shown upon the chart, their outer extremity bearing S.E. by S. ½ S. from Monkhouse Point, and their south-western limit W. ½ N. from the Rocky point forming the south-east headland of the bay.

Small craft intending to get shelter under this point should round it at a distance of, and at not less than one cable, and then haul up and anchor in 10 feet low water springs, about three cables from the point.

SUNKEN REEF, HALIFAX BAY.

Mr. J. H. Mayer, Master of the Schooner "Marchioness of Lorne," reports the existence of a Sunken Reef lying about 1½ or 2 miles W.S.W. from the north-west point of Rattlesnake Island. The reef lies east and west, is of small extent, and is covered by about two feet of water at low water springs.

SEPARATE Tenders are hereby invited, and will be received until noon of SATURDAY, the 3rd October next, for the conveyance of Post Office Mails, as undermentioned, from the 1st January, 1875.

All Tenders are required to be written on a form, printed copies of which may be had gratuitously on application at any Post Office in the colony, and may be forwarded (if by post, prepaid) addressed to the Postmaster-General, with the words "Tender for the Conveyance of Mails," together with the number of the service endorsed on the cover, or placed in the Tender Box, at the General Post Office.

Tenderers are requested to describe, by their numbers as below, the mail services for which they tender, and every Tender will be taken to include the entire service as called for.

Tenders on separate forms are required for each service, as well as for the periods mentioned, namely, one year or two years.

Every Tender must bear the bonâ fide signatures of the tenderer, and two responsible persons willing to become bound with him in such sum as the Postmaster-General may direct, not exceeding the gross amount of the contract.

Persons tendering, or their agents, are required to be in attendance at the General Post Office, at Brisbane, on the 12th October next, and must then forthwith pay to the Postmaster-General a sum equal to twenty per cent. of the amount of such of their tenders as may be accepted, as a guarantee until their bonds and contracts shall be executed.

The deposit to be absolutely forfeited to the Government in the event of the contractor failing either to complete the bond and contract within a reasonable time, or to commence the service on the date appointed.

The deposit will not be returned until the service has been in operation for at least one month, to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General.

The General conditions referred to in the printed form of tender can be inspected at the General Post Office, or at any Post Office in the colony.

Funds.

3. That this institution be supported by voluntary contributions and charges to patients, together with such aid as Government may afford.

Government.

4. The government of this institution shall be vested in donors of ten pounds in one sum, which donation constitutes a governor for life, and annual subscribers of one pound each and upwards.

Power of subscribers.

5. Every governor contributing at least one pound annually, or ten pounds in one sum, shall be entitled to one vote at every general meeting; every governor contributing two pounds annually, shall have the privilege of recommending himself or one in-patient and one out-patient; every governor contributing four pounds annually, shall have the privilege of recommending two in-patients and four out-patients; and every governor contributing six pounds and upwards annually, shall be entitled to have one patient constantly in the Hospital. Besides these patients, who shall be free of charge, every governor may recommend any number of paying patients. Provided that each contribution, as above, be paid in one sum.

Voting.

6. Governors, as specified under Rule 4, shall be entitled to vote either in person or by proxy, at every general meeting. Provided that every proxy shall produce to the Chairman a written authority to act in such capacity, which authority shall remain in force only for the particular meeting for which it was given; and provided that no vote, either by person or proxy, shall be allowed unless the contributor so desiring to vote shall have paid his or her subscription. All voting for election of officers shall be by ballot; and in cases of contest the poll shall remain open for half an hour after delivery of the first vote.

Officers.

7. The officers of the institution shall be chosen from among the Governors, and shall consist as follows:—President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, Surgeon, and committee of twelve.

Special general meeting.

9. Special general meetings may be called by the Secretary on the authority of the committee, or of a requisition addressed to them, and signed by at least five governors. Provided that the Secretary shall give to every station-holder and to the postmaster, with a request to make it public three weeks beforehand, written notice of the day of meeting and the purpose for which it is called.

Quorum.

10. If at any general meeting at least five governors are not present within one hour of the time fixed for the meeting, no business shall be done, but such meeting shall stand adjourned for seven days, at which adjourned meeting four governors shall form a quorum.

Alteration of laws.

11. No laws of the institution shall be altered, nor any new law proposed, except at annual or special general meetings; and twenty-one days' notice of business proposed to be discussed shall be given to the Secretary, who shall cause such notice to be posted conspicuously in such places of general resort as he may deem advisable.

The paid Surgeon shall have control of the patients, servants, and stores, and shall be empowered to issue warrants to contractors for the goods on their lists for the use of the institution; and shall cause to be kept a receipt and expenditure account of all rations, stores, and supplies used in the Hospital. He (or, in his absence, some other legally qualified surgeon) shall visit the Hospital daily between the hours of nine and twelve in the forenoon, and at such other times as circumstances may require; he shall keep a medical record, the property of the institution, in which he shall enter particulars concerning the admission and discharge of patients, and any other matter affecting the welfare of the institution, such record being at all times open for the inspection of visitors; he shall attend every monthly meeting of the committee,

Committees.

17. The General Committee shall consist of the President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, Surgeon (latter to have no vote), and twelve governors, to be selected at the annual general meeting. They shall also have power to hold emergency meetings of committee at any time when necessity may demand. They shall further be empowered to suspend any officer, and to temporarily fill up any vacancy pending the holding of a special general meeting of governors, which shall in all such cases be convened as quickly as possible, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 11.

18. A Working Committee, consisting of three members of the General Committee, shall be chosen at each monthly committee meeting. It shall be their duty to meet once a week, or more frequently, as circumstances may require, at the Hospital, to admit patients under Rule 24 and 25, to entertain complaints (if any) from the patients, and to suggest to the Surgeon any improvements in the working of the Hospital which may seem advisable; and further, they shall report such complaints and suggestions to the General Committee at their next monthly meeting.

Religious ministrations.

19. Every patient shall, if practicable, be placed under the spiritual charge of some minister of religion. Any patient can at any time apply through the committee for the ministration of any minister he thinks proper.

[CIRCULAR.]

Imperial Act.
37 and 38, Vic.
c. 27.

SIR,—I have the honor to transmit a copy of an Act, 37 and 38 Victoria, cap. 27, which has passed this Session, intituled "An Act to regulate the Sentences imposed by Colonial Courts where jurisdiction to try is conferred by Imperial Acts."

2. As you are aware, jurisdiction is given by certain Imperial Acts, as, for instance, 9 George 4, cap. 83, section 4, and 12 and 13 Victoria, cap. 96, to Colonial Courts to try offences committed beyond the jurisdiction of those Courts, and the persons convicted are made liable to suffer such punishment as by any law or laws in force at the time of the passing of such Acts, they would have been liable to if the offence had been committed and tried in England.

3. Difficulties have recently arisen, both in Victoria and Malta, in deciding what sentences could be passed upon persons tried and convicted in the Colonial Courts for offences committed out of the Colonies, but made triable within them by Imperial Act; and the Act now transmitted has been passed with a view to prevent any such questions arising for the future.

4. The Act provides that such punishment may be inflicted in such cases as might have been inflicted if the offences had been committed within the Colony.

5. The Act also includes cases, if any, where offences, if committed within the local jurisdiction of a Colonial Court, are by Imperial Act made punishable according to the law of England.

6. Moreover, special provision is made at the end of the third section to meet the case of an offence not punishable by the law of the Colony in which the trial takes place; and the Colonial Court is in such case empowered to impose such punishment (other than capital punishment) as shall seem to the Court most nearly to correspond to the punishment to which such person would have been liable in case such crime or offence had been tried in England.

7. These cases will, probably, be of rare occurrence; but it was thought desirable to embrace all possible cases, and to make the legislation upon the subject final and complete.

8. The usual steps should be taken to make the provisions of this Act known in the Colony under your Government.

CHAP. 27.

A.D. 1874.

An Act to regulate the Sentences imposed by Colonial Courts where jurisdiction to try is conferred by Imperial Acts. [30th June, 1874.]

WHEREAS by certain Acts of Parliament jurisdiction is conferred on courts in Her Majesty's colonies to try persons charged with certain crimes or offences, and doubts have arisen as to the proper sentences to be imposed upon conviction of such persons; and it is expedient to remove such doubts:

Be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Courts (Colonial) Jurisdiction Act, 1874."

Definition of term "colony."

2. For the purposes of this Act,—

The term "colony" shall not include any places within the United Kingdom, the Isle of Man, or the Channel Islands, but shall include such territories as may for the time being be vested in Her Majesty by virtue of an Act of Parliament for the Government of India, and any plantation, territory, or settlement situate elsewhere within Her Majesty's dominions, and subject to the same local government; and for the purposes of this Act, all plantations, territories, and settlements under a central legislature shall be deemed to be one colony under the same local government.

At trials in any colonial courts by virtue of Imperial Acts, courts empowered to pass sentences as if crimes had been committed in the colony.

3. When, by virtue of any Act of Parliament now or hereafter to be passed, a person is tried in a court of any colony for any crime or offence committed upon the high seas or elsewhere out of the territorial limits of such colony and of the local jurisdiction of such court, or if committed within such local jurisdiction made punishable by that Act, such person shall, upon conviction, be liable to such punishment as might have been inflicted upon him if the crime or offence had been committed within the limits of such colony and of the local jurisdiction of the court, and to no other, anything in any Act to the contrary notwithstanding: Provided always, that if the crime or offence is a crime or offence not punishable by the law of the colony in which the trial takes place, the person shall, on conviction, be liable to such punishment (other than capital punishment) as shall seem to the court most nearly to correspond to the punishment to which such person would have been liable in case such crime or offence had been tried in England.

QUEENSLAND, } Proclamation by the Most Honorable GEORGE AUGUSTUS CONSTANTINE,

Mulgrave of Mulgrave, all in the County of York, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom; and Baron Mulgrave of New Ross, in the County of (L.S.) Wexford, in the Peerage of Ireland; a Member of Her Majesty's Most NORMANBY, Honorable Privy Council, a Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Governor. Order of St. Michael and St. George, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of Queensland and its Dependencies.

IN pursuance of "The Gold Fields Act, 1874," 38 Victoria, No. 11, I, GEORGE AUGUSTUS
CONSTANTINE, Marquis of Normanby, the Governor aforesaid, with the advice of the Executive Council, do by this my Proclamation notify and proclaim the following Regulations for the management of the Gold Fields of the whole of the Colony.

Given under my Hand and Seal, at Government House, Brisbane, this twenty-ninth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and in the thirty-eighth year of Her Majesty's reign.

By Command,

THOMAS McILWRAITH.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

Size of protection area.

1. Any miner or party of miners desirous of prospecting may mark off and hold a protection area of the following dimensions, viz. :—

Beyond the limits of a proclaimed gold field, 400 yards by 400 yards.

Within the limits of a proclaimed gold field, and more than (3) three miles from the nearest gold workings, 300 yards by 300 yards; not more than three miles, and more than one mile from such workings, 200 yards by 200 yards; not more than one mile, and more than 400 yards, 150 yards by 150 yards.

The foregoing part of this rule refers to prospecting for alluvial of any kind or quartz reefs, but any miner searching for a new reef at any distance not more than 400 yards from any reef being worked may mark off and hold a protection area of 150 yards by 150 yards.

Mode of marking.

2. All protection areas must be marked at each of the four corners with a post four inches in diameter, standing three feet above ground, set in L trenches three feet long and six inches deep, and such marking shall be deemed a good and sufficient title for seven days; after which all protection areas within the limits of a proclaimed gold field must be registered. Such registration must be renewed monthly, but the Warden may, at his discretion, by a certificate of exemption under his hand, exempt for a specified period, any prospecting area from the necessity of such renewal of registration.

Must be worked full handed.

3. The holder or holders of every protection area shall affix, in writing, on a conspicuous part of the area, the name with the number and date of the miner's right of every such holder or holders, and the date on which the area was taken up, with the date of each renewal of registration, or the certificate of exemption from such renewal signed by the Warden; and every such area must be continuously worked every ordinary working day within twenty-four hours after marking, with the full number of miners whose names appear on the notice. All shares not so worked or represented shall be liable to forfeiture.

Prospector must report finding gold.

4. Within seven days after the finding of gold in apparently payable quantities within any such protection area, the holders of it shall report the same to the Warden, under pain of forfeiture of their title to a reward claim as hereinafter mentioned. The Warden shall then proceed to the ground, and if sufficient gold has been found to warrant it, he shall allot the prospectors a reward claim in addition to the number of ordinary claims to which they would otherwise be entitled, or he may renew the protection at the request of the prospectors.

Bonâ fide prospecting.

5. As protection areas are granted for prospecting purposes only, surfacing, gathering surface quartz, or any work other than bonâ fide prospecting, shall not be deemed sufficient for the holding of a protection area.

Mode of taking possession of claim.

6. Any party of miners may take possession of a claim (except where otherwise specially provided) by fixing firmly in the ground at each corner of the claim a peg or post, projecting at least two feet above the surface, and set in L trenches three feet long and six inches deep along each boundary line, provided that no other miner or miners is or are then in possession or occupation thereof. In the event of any other miner or miners being in possession of the claim, the party desiring to take possession shall apply to the Warden to inquire into the matter, and in case any miner shall take forcible possession of, or commence to work in any claim after his right to take possession thereof has been disputed he shall forfeit all right and title which he may have acquired therein.

Taking possession of a share.

7. Any miner may take possession of any abandoned share in any occupied claim by posting a notice in writing, at or as near as possible to the then working shaft of such claim, specifying the share and the reason for taking possession thereof, and if no objection to such possession be lodged within seven clear days after posting such notice, the Warden shall register such share in the name of the miner so taking possession if required to do so.

Claims continuously worked—Exceptions.

8. All claims must be continuously worked within forty-eight hours after they have been marked off, with the requisite number of men, otherwise such claim or claims shall be liable to forfeiture, and, thereafter, any claim or share in a claim remaining unworked or unrepresented for three ordinary working days shall be liable to forfeiture. Provided that no miner shall forfeit his interest in any claim if employed at any necessary work in connection with it, or if his absence be caused through attendance at a court of justice, or through a general cessation from work through floods or rain or on any public holidays, or on holidays proclaimed by Warden.

Marking too much ground.

9. Any miner marking off more ground than he is entitled to shall be liable to have the surplus ground pegged off at either end of the claim at the option of any other miner.

Claim-holders' rights—Pegs not to be removed.

10. All claims of any description, except quartz claims, must be marked off at each corner by a peg standing at least two feet above the ground, the same to be kept visible during the working of the claim, and the owners of every claim shall be entitled to all auriferous deposits within the perpendicular of the pegs (that is within the vertical planes passing through the boundaries thereof as denoted by the pegs); and no person shall remove or destroy the pegs or boundaries of any claim or authorised holding.

Exemption from working.

11. The Warden may issue a certificate of exemption from work for any period not more than thirty days (renewable from time to time for a like period at his discretion) in cases where he is satisfied either that the person claiming exemption is incapacitated from working through accident or sickness, or that the breaking down or the absence of machinery, or superabundance or want of water, justifies such exemption; and the Warden shall hear and determine any objection to granting or renewing such certificate.

False representation.

12. Any person who shall by false representation or fraudulent concealment of fact obtain registration of any mining or other interest, or who shall by such means obtain a certificate of exemption from work, shall be liable to forfeit the property in respect of which such registration or certificate of exemption shall have been so obtained.

One miner's right sufficient.

13. Any holder of a miner's right may hold any number of claims, or shares in claims, provided that such claims or shares in claims are duly worked and represented by holders of miners' rights.

Title.

14. Possession of a claim by any miners being holders of miners' rights, shall be prima facie evidence of title to such claim.

Forfeited claims or shares.

15. Whenever under the Act or these regulations any occupied claim or share in an occupied claim is liable to be forfeited, any holder or holders of a miner's right or rights may apply to the Warden to declare such forfeiture and to put him or them in the possession of the claim or share, and if the Warden shall find that the claim or share is liable to forfeiture he shall declare the same and put the applicant or applicants in possession of such share or claim accordingly.

Roads across claims.

16. When requisite for the efficient working of any claim or for the public interest, the Warden may authorise the making of a road or crossing-place over any gully, creek, claim, or lease, in such manner and under such conditions as he may determine.

Working near roads.

17. Any miner having a shaft or hole in dangerous proximity to a public road, thoroughfare, or crossing-place in ordinary use, shall securely fence the same, and no person shall remove, destroy, or throw down any timber or fence placed for that purpose.

Transfers.

18. The holder of any claim, share, dam, reservoir, or water right, or interest therein, or of any business site, machine area, or other authorised holding, or the registered holder of any lien thereon, may transfer the same; and such transfer may be registered in the Warden's office, on payment of a fee of five shillings; and the transferee shall be liable for all registered incumbrances, agreements, and conditions registered against the property so transferred.

Claim not to be forfeited through absence of hired men without due notice to owner.

19. If any miner who may be employed to represent any interest or share in a claim, shall absent himself from the claim, or otherwise neglect to represent such interest or share, the same shall not be forfeited unless within seven clear working days after notice of such absence or neglect shall have been served on the owner or his agent, the owner's interest or share be not fully represented in conformity with the regulations. In case the owner or his agent cannot be found after due inquiry, such notice shall be posted at the Warden's office and on the claim for seven clear days, and thereupon shall be deemed to have been served upon such owner or his agent, on the first of such days.

Stacking quartz, earth, etc.

20. Any miner or party of miners having forfeited or abandoned his or their claim, or share in a claim, shall be at liberty to retain possession of any stone, or earth, or other substance containing gold—the produce of such claim or share in a claim—that may have been raised at the time of the forfeiture or abandonment, provided such stone, earth, or other substance, shall be stacked on ground not interfering with the working of the claim, and distant not less than fifty feet from the mouth of the shaft. And the Warden shall, upon application being made to him, register the same on payment of a fee of ten shillings, as the property of such miner or miners for any period not exceeding twelve months. A copy of such registration shall be affixed on the stack; and no person during the period of such registration shall remove the said stack of stone, earth, or other substance containing gold, or any of it, without the permission of the owner or owners thereof.

Non-payable claims may be registered.

21. Any miner or miners who have done six consecutive months' bona fide work in any claim without obtaining payable gold therein, may have the claim registered on payment of a fee of ten shillings, as held in reserve by the authority of the Warden for a period of six (6) calendar months. Provided such registration be not injurious to adjoining claims. Provided also, that, in case of quartz claims, fifty tons of quartz shall have been crushed therefrom.

No injury permitted to claims or roads.

22. No person or persons shall cause or permit sludge, tailings, or water to flow from his or their claim, dam, or machinery, or to accumulate so as to cause injury or obstruction to any public road or thoroughfare, or any other inconvenience or damage of a public or private nature.

Agreements by shareholders binding on new shareholders.

23. All rules and agreements entered into by the shareholders of any claim for the working thereof shall be binding upon any one taking possession of a forfeited or abandoned share in any such claim.

Claims to be well timbered.

24. Upon complaint being made to the Warden that any shaft or underground workings are not sufficiently timbered, and that loss of life or injury may be occasioned thereby, the Warden shall cause an examination of such workings to be made by two competent miners; and if it shall appear that such timbering is insufficient, he shall order such additional props or other timbering as he may consider necessary to be set in such shaft or under-ground workings by the owner of the claim.

Application to erect machinery.

25. Application for permission to erect any machinery other than the ordinary appliances used for gold-washing must be made, in writing, to the Warden, and a notice of application must also be posted on a conspicuous part of the ground on which it is proposed to erect the machinery, as well as at the Warden's office, for seven days. If no valid objection be lodged, the Warden may grant the permission to occupy an area for the purpose of erecting such machinery thereon not exceeding three acres, and register the same. But the Warden may at his discretion before doing so demand a plan and description of the land applied for, as actually surveyed and marked. To prevent any injurious deposits of sludge from any machine, it shall be a condition of such sanction to its erection, that the owner shall at any time, on pain of suspension of operations, dispose of the sludge in such manner as the Warden shall direct. It shall also be a condition of such sanction, that every machine owner shall make to the Warden a monthly return stating the quantity of earth or stone operated on and the total yield of each lot, with such other particulars as may be required by the Warden.

Drainage.

26. When the owners of any claim, by the erection of any appliance for drainage can show that they have effected a saving of labor in adjoining claims, the owners of adjoining claims deriving such benefit shall be liable to pay to the owners of such appliance a reasonable sum of money for such benefit.

Mining plant not to be forfeited.

27. The mining plant, tools, and appliances on or in connection with any forfeited claim shall not be deemed chattels attached to such claim, so as to be forfeited therewith.

Compensation.

28. When the site occupied by any machine, dam, water-race, reservoir, or tramway, or site for stacking tailings or cement, or any land which shall be bonâ fide used as a yard, garden, cultivated field or orchard, or upon which any house, shed, or other building shall have been erected, and shall be in actual use and occupation, shall be proved to be auriferous, it may be mined upon, provided the miner or miners intending to mine thereon shall, before commencing to work, compensate the owner or owners thereof for any loss, damage, or injury that may be sustained by him or them in consequence thereof. Such compensation may be determined by the Warden, or Warden and assessors.

Business area.

29. The holder of a business license shall be entitled to occupy on any gold field, for the purpose of residence and carrying on his business, an area of land not exceeding one quarter of an acre, the frontage of which to any road, creek, or water, shall not exceed seventy-two feet

Extended claims.—Quartz or alluvial.

30. Where the expense of erecting mining machinery or works is likely to be great, or the poverty of the ground warrants it, or in old and abandoned ground, the Warden may, on application, allot to each miner proposed to be employed an extended claim not to exceed in area four ordinary claims. And only half the number of miners need be employed on the claim or in connection therewith until the preliminary work is done, such as sinking a deep shaft, cutting a race, or erecting machinery, after which the full number must be employed. Seven days' notice of the intention to apply to the Warden for an extended claim must be posted on some conspicuous part of the ground by the applicants, and also at the Warden's office,

What considered a sufficient working.

31. A claim or auriferous leasehold shall be considered as effectively and continuously worked when six hours' bona fide work is performed thereon or in connection therewith by the complement of men required by the Act and these regulations on every working day except Saturday, when four hours' work shall be considered sufficient.

Declaration of loss of miner's right.

32. When any miner loses his miner's right, or certificate of registration, or transfer certificate, by virtue of which he holds any share or portion of a share, he shall make a declaration of such loss before the Warden, and shall receive, for all the purposes connected with the transfer of his interest, a declaration in lieu of such miner's right, register, or transfer certificate, or any or either of them.

Liens, &c., how effected.

33. The holder of any claim or share or interest therein may give a lien upon the same as security for the due payment of any debt, and upon the production to the Warden of the miner's right of the lienor and lienee, and upon the execution by them of a lien ticket duly attested, the Warden shall register a lien upon the claim, share, or interest, and shall then issue to the lienee a duplicate of the lien ticket; and every such lien registered as aforesaid shall be a specific charge upon such claim, share, or interest until the debt shall have been paid in full; and if more than one lien has been effected on any claim, share, or interest, such liens shall take precedence according to the date of their respective registrations. Provided that, upon the delivery to the Warden by the lienor of a certificate duly signed by the lienee, and attested, that the debt or liability for which such lien was held has been fully discharged, the Warden shall forthwith cancel such lien. In the event of such lienor failing to redeem such share or interest at the time appointed the lienee may cause the same to be sold by public auction, after having advertised the same in the nearest newspaper and posted a copy of such advertisement on a conspicuous part of the claim, not less than seven days before the day of sale. And the lienee shall stand possessed of the proceeds of such sale, upon trust, to pay all costs consequent on such default, then to pay the debt secured by the lien, and to pay the balance, if any, to the lienor. The lienor shall be entitled to redeem at any time before sale, upon payment of debt and expenses incurred; but in case of any sale under the powers herein contained, the Warden shall, upon production of the lien ticket, accompanied by a statutory declaration of default having been made of the money secured thereby, and the miner's right of the purchaser, register such purchaser as the holder of such claim, share, or interest, in lieu of the lienor. A lienee shall not, by virtue of the lien, be held to be a co-partner in any claim on any share in which he holds a lien.

Union of claims.

34. Any two or more contiguous claims may, with the consent of three-fourths of the holders in number and interest of each such claim, respectively unite. Provided that the conditions of the separate claims shall, in the aggregate, apply to the amalgamated claim.

Registration of title to claim.

35. The Warden shall, on the application of any miner or miners, register his or their title to any claim or share in a claim held by him or them.

ALLUVIAL CLAIMS.Prospecting or reward.

36. The size of prospecting or reward claims which shall be given for the discovery of payable gold in any creek, river, or ordinary alluvial ground, and reported to the Warden within seven days after the discovery, shall be in proportion to the distance from the nearest occupied gold workings of the same description, and as follows:—

If distant over 400 yards	Two claims of one man's ground
„ one-half of a mile	Three ditto ditto.
„ one mile	Four ditto ditto.
„ two miles	Six ditto ditto.
„ three miles	Ten ditto ditto.
If beyond the limits of a gold field	Twenty ditto ditto.

The above reward shall be in addition to the number of claims to which the parties would be otherwise entitled, and may be marked off in any rectangular shape, in one block, at the option of the prospectors. Provided that no side of the block shall be less than fifty feet.

Ordinary alluvial.

37. Ordinary alluvial claims shall be—

							Fest.	Fest.
For one man	50	x 50
For two men	100	x 50
For three men	150	x 50
For four men	200	x 50

And so on for any number of men, without restriction as to the number of party or shape of the claim. Provided that the claim of each party shall be a rectangular block no side of which shall be less than fifty feet.

Wet alluvial.

38. In wet ground, when water other than surface water exists, and necessitates slabbing throughout, or in rocky ground requiring blasting for 30 feet in the sinking of the shaft, the size of claim shall be as follows:—

							Feet.	Feet.
One miner	50	x 100
Two miners	100	x 100
Three miners	150	x 100
Four miners	200	x 100

And so on in the same proportion for any number of miners. Provided that no side of the claim of more than one miner shall be less than one hundred feet.

RIVER AND CREEK CLAIMS.Size of claim.

39. Fifty feet frontage in the general direction of the course of the stream will be allowed each miner in any creek or river, with a width from bank to bank, unless such width shall exceed one hundred yards, in which case the excess may be claimed by any other miner. In case of dispute, the bank of the creek or river is to be defined by the Warden or Warden and two assessors.

Flood race may be required.

40. Every holder of a claim in a river or creek, shall, if necessary, form and maintain a sufficient flood-race through any part of such claim, and shall be entitled to maintain the natural level of the water at the head of his claim, provided that no prior right shall be injured thereby, but shall have no further right to any tail-water after it shall have passed his workings.

Dam may be constructed.

41. Any holder of a river or creek claim shall be permitted to construct a dam at the upper end of his claim for the purpose of turning the stream into his flood-race, and may extend such flood-race for such distance beyond his claim as may be necessary for the effectual working of the same, provided that no prior right be injured thereby.

No obstruction by dam permitted.

42. No dam or obstruction in the course of any river or creek shall be permitted to interfere in any way with the working of such river or creek, and must be removed or lowered by the holder thereof as the Warden may direct.

QUARTZ REEFS.Definition.

43. The term "reef" shall be taken to mean a seam of quartz or any substance containing gold other than alluvial.

Reward claims.

44. The reward claim which shall be given for the discovery of gold in apparently payable quantities on any new reef, or the re-discovery of the same on any reef previously occupied and abandoned, shall be in proportion to the distance from any reef being worked, and as follows:—

If distant less than 400 yards	100 feet along the line of reef.
„ more than 400 yards and less than one mile	..	150	ditto	ditto.
„ more than one mile and less than two	...	200	ditto	ditto.
„ more than two miles and less than ten...	...	300	ditto	ditto.
„ ten miles or more	...	500	ditto	ditto.

With a width of 400 feet. The above reward shall be in addition to the number of claims the party would be otherwise entitled to as ordinary miners, in ordinary quartz claims.

Ordinary quartz claims.

45. The extent allowed for each miner in any ordinary quartz claim shall be 50 feet along the supposed line of reef, by a width of (400) four hundred feet. The width of all quartz claims must be marked off at right angles to the base line, but the whole, or any part of such width, may be marked on either side of such line, at the option of the shareholders, provided that no previously allotted claim is thereby interfered with.

To be registered.

46. In all quartz claims, the names of the shareholders, together with the dates and numbers of their miners' rights under which the claim is held, as also the name of the reef upon which it is situated, and the number of the claim, must be registered in a book, to be kept by the Warden, and a copy of the entry must always be kept posted on some conspicuous part of the claim.

Boundaries to be marked.

47. All quartz claims must be marked by posts of not less than three feet in height above the ground, and 4 inches in diameter, at each corner of the claim, set in an L trench, 3 feet long and 6 inches deep, along the boundary lines, and on the base line, at each end of the claim, set in a T trench, 6 feet long, and 6 inches deep, on the boundary line and base line; such posts to be at all times kept clear of rubbish, and exposed to view.

Number of miners to be employed.

48. Only one-half the number of miners to whom any quartz claims shall have been allotted need be employed thereon until it shall have been proved payable. When it has been proved payable the whole number must be employed thereon so long as it continues payable; the test for which shall be the quantity of gold obtained from last crushing. When it ceases to be payable again, only one-half the number of miners need be employed, and so on. The onus of proof that the claim is not payable shall rest upon the shareholders.

When payable.

49. A claim on a quartz reef shall be deemed to be payable when the quantity of gold obtained from such claim shall be equal in value to the sum which has been paid, or at current rates of wages would have been payable, for wages, to all the miners of the working party actually employed thereon, or in connection therewith, during the time occupied in extracting and crushing quartz, together with the other necessary working expenses.

Warden to examine if payable.

50. No quartz claim shall be deemed payable until a crushing has been obtained; but if after any crushing the holders of a quartz claim shall fail to work their claim full-handed, it shall be competent, upon complaint by any holder of a miner's right, for the Warden, assisted by two assessors, to enter in upon and examine such claim, and if in their opinion it be payable, to order the same to be worked full-handed under pain of forfeiture of the unrepresented shares therein.

WATER-RIGHTS.

51. Any party of miners may, subject to the provisions of these regulations, cut, construct, and use races, dams, and reservoirs for gold mining purposes through and upon any Crown lands; and may take or divert water from any spring, lake, swamp, river, or creek, situate on or flowing through or adjoining Crown lands, and use such water for gold mining purposes or for general use.

Mode of application.

52. Any party of miners intending to divert and use water for gold mining or general use, and to cut a race and construct dams or reservoirs in connection therewith, shall give notice in writing thereof to the Warden, and every such notice shall set forth the name of the river, creek, or source from which the water is to be obtained, and describe with sufficient accuracy the point at which it is to be diverted or used, the quantity in sluice heads required, the number of dams (if any) in which such water is to be stored and their situation, the probable length of the race, its intended course and termination, and the names of the applicants; and copies of every such notice shall be kept posted for seven clear days at the Warden's office, at the source from which the water is intended to be obtained, and also at the proposed termination of the race; and if no objection be lodged at the expiration of seven days, the Warden shall grant the required permission.

Heads of water—how gauged.

53. A box sluice-head shall be a body of water one inch by twelve inches; a ground sluice-head shall be a body of water three inches by twelve inches, and shall be gauged in the following manner:—A box six feet long and twelve inches in width, with a scale of inches marked on the inner side at the lower end, shall be placed at the head of the race, having a fall not exceeding six inches in the entire length of it, and the gauge of water shall be taken at the mouth of the box where the water is discharged. When the length of the race shall exceed one mile, the width of the box may be increased half an inch for each mile.

Quantity of water taken and left running.

54. The quantity of water to which any party shall be entitled under one water-right for sluicing purposes on any claim shall not exceed two ground sluice-heads; and in all river beds and running creeks from which water is diverted for gold mining purposes, there shall be left running at least one ground sluice-head for general use when required.

Priority of water-rights.

55. The priority of water-rights derived from a common source shall be determined by the date of grant and registration; and in case of failure of water supply, the person last registered shall forego his rights during such failure of water as against the person previously registered, and so on in rotation as the supply diminishes. Provided always that the holder of a water-right in the bed of a stream shall have a preference over the holder of a water-right whereby the water of such stream is diverted from its natural course.

Right to cut race anywhere.

56. Any party of miners may cut any race or drain for gold-mining purposes through any claim, or over or under any race or drain belonging to any other party of miners, provided that no injury be done to such claim, or race, or drain, through or over or under which the first-mentioned race may be cut; and the original line of any race may be altered or deviated from by the consent of the Warden, if no prior right be injured thereby.

Right of original owner to hired water.

57. The holder of any water-right, when not using the water held under such right, shall, if required by the Warden so to do, turn off the water at the head of his race into its natural channel, and no person hiring water from the owner of any water-right shall have any right to such water after it shall have passed his works, but such right of water shall revert to the original owner.

Warden may compel repair of race.

58. When, from imperfect construction or neglect, any race is in such an inefficient state as to cause a waste of water, or to become a nuisance to the public, the Warden may order the water at the head of such race to be turned off until the defective portion is made good.

Protection to race.

59. No miner shall be permitted to sink, or drive, or cut timber within 10 feet of any occupied race, without the consent of the owner, or as otherwise provided for by these regulations.

Exemption from use of race.

60. The holder of any water-right, or race, dam, or reservoir in connection therewith, desirous of retaining the same unused for any longer period than 14 days, must post notices to that effect, in writing, on the said race, dam, or reservoir, and at the Warden's office, for seven days; and on good cause shown, and if no valid objection be lodged, the Warden may issue a certificate of exemption from use for a period not longer than six months, and register the same on payment of a fee of ten shillings.

Water diverted for sale or hire.

61. Any party of miners who may cut or construct a race for the conveyance of water to any gold field for sale or hire, for gold-mining purposes or general use, shall not be restricted in the quantity of water they shall divert. Provided that no prior right shall be prejudiced, or any injury of a private or public nature shall be caused thereby, and provided that the entire quantity of water so diverted is being actually sold and disposed of in a bonâ fide manner; and any water conveyed in excess of the quantity that is being so sold and disposed of shall, when the Warden shall direct, be allowed to flow in its natural channel.

Right to sell water.

62. The holder of a water-right under the regulations may sell or dispose of the right to the whole or any portion of such water, or let the use of such water for a stated period, and the property and interest in any race, dam, or reservoir, and in the water contained therein, or flowing therein or through any race, shall be deemed to be a chattel interest, and the owner or owners may recover in a summary way any sum of money due in respect of any water supplied from any such race, dam, or reservoir.

Water not to be taken or polluted.

63. No person shall take water from any race, dam, or reservoir, without the consent of the owner, or shall permit sludge or other noxious matter to flow into or otherwise pollute the water in any dam, race, or reservoir, or shall injure the banks of any dam, reservoir, or race, or the works connected therewith; but the right to any water under any water-right shall terminate whenever the water so held shall be discharged into any natural stream or watercourse.

Dams or reservoirs.

64. Any party of miners may construct a dam or reservoir for gold mining purposes other than in connection with the right to divert water from a river or stream, and they shall be deemed to possess an exclusive right to all water collected and stored therein. But no such dam or reservoir shall be allowed in any position so as to cause injury to any other dam or reservoir or claim or holding, or any injury of a public or private nature; and the holder of any dam or reservoir may form and cut races to gather and convey water into any such dam or reservoir, provided that no prior right be injured thereby.

Registration of water-rights, dams, &c.

65. All certificates of registration of water-rights, races, dams, and reservoirs shall be authorised and indorsed by the Warden, and the right or privilege attached to any water-right, race, dam, or reservoir shall not be affected by any transfer or assignment of any share or interest therein.

Union of water-rights.

66. Two or more water-rights may be allowed to be united and run through one race, provided such union be registered.

Applications for water-rights and objections.

67. Application for permission to construct any dam or reservoir must be made in writing to the Warden, and a notice posted on the ground applied for, and also at the Warden's office, for seven days, and all objections to the grant of any water-right, or to the construction of any race, dam, or reservoir, shall be heard by the Warden or Warden and assessors, but previous to such hearing the objector must lodge with the Warden the sum of two pounds for the costs of hearing.

TUNNELLING.

Protection area.

68. "Tunnelling ground" shall mean any portion of Crown lands containing hills or plateaux in which the superincumbent stratum shall be at least 100 feet above the roof in any part of the tunnel. The protection area allowed on such ground shall be 600 feet on each side of the tunnel with a length of half-a-mile across the hill or plateau.

Boundary lines.

69. The boundary lines of such protection area must be parallel to each other, and marked with posts four inches in diameter, standing three feet above ground, each post to be within view of the other.

Reward claim.

70. The reward claim allowed for finding a payable quartz reef in any such tunnel shall be double the size prescribed by clause 44 of these regulations, and in addition fifty feet for every hundred feet comprised in the length of the tunnel.

Ordinary claim.

71. The size of ordinary quartz claims in tunnelling ground shall be double the size prescribed by clause 45 of these regulations, provided that the reef in the prospector's claim shall be at least 200 feet from the mouth of the tunnel, otherwise the size shall be the same as ordinary quartz claims.

Protection to tunnels.

72. Each party shall drive their tunnels within their own parallels as defined on the surface, but two or more parties may, by agreement, registered by the Warden, use the same tunnel or any portion thereof. Twenty feet of ground on each side of any tunnel or portion of a tunnel which may be outside of any claim held in connection therewith shall be protected from occupation.

Space for depositing quartz, rubbish, etc.

73. A space of two hundred feet square will be allowed at the mouth of every tunnel, or for every claim using a common tunnel, for the purpose of depositing quartz or rubbish.

PUDDLING CLAIMS.

Claims.

74. A puddling claim may be taken up on alluvial ground which has been previously worked and abandoned, or on ground which has been tested and found to be too poor to pay for the ordinary method of working such ground, to be worked in connection with a puddling machine.

Size.

75. The size of claims allowed shall be one hundred feet by one hundred feet or every man employed on the claim, or at the puddling machine, or in connection therewith.

Must be registered.

76. All puddling claims must be marked at each of the four corners, by a post three inches in diameter, standing three feet above ground, and must be registered by the Warden.

AURIFEROUS LEASES.

How applied for.

77. Persons desirous of obtaining leases for gold mining purposes under "The Gold Fields Act of 1874," shall apply for the same in the form contained in schedule No. 1 hereto annexed, and subject to the following regulations:—

- (1.) The area applied for shall not exceed 25 acres.
- (2.) The term shall not exceed 21 years.
- (3.) The rental shall be at the rate of £1 per acre per annum, or for any part of an acre.
- (4.) The applicants shall, at the time of their application, post a notice in the form of the schedule No. 2, hereto annexed, on a conspicuous part of the claim, and at the Warden's office, and advertise in the nearest local newspaper, and shall duly mark the ground.
- (5.) Each application must be signed by the party or parties applying for the lease, or by accredited agents, and must be accompanied by a sketch plan, defining the position of the land applied for.
- (6.) On gold fields where a mining surveyor has been appointed by the Government, the applicant shall, within three months after lodging the application, furnish to the Warden a plan in duplicate and description, showing the boundaries of the land as actually surveyed and marked by the mining surveyor; where no mining surveyor has been appointed, such plan and description shall be lodged within six months after application; but in either case the Warden shall have power to recommend further extensions of three months. The plan and description of an auriferous lease shall be executed in accordance with the general directions issued by the Government.

- (7.) In cases where the Government have appointed a mining surveyor to act within the limits of any proclaimed gold field or district, all surveys for auriferous leases shall only be executed by such mining surveyor, and the fees, according to the following schedule, shall be deposited with the applications for leases :—

SCHEDULE.

- (8.) In all cases where the land is so available, the area applied for shall be rectangular, and its length shall not exceed twice its breadth; but when, owing to the positions of adjoining boundaries or natural features, regular rectangular areas are not available, any intervening or irregular shaped pieces of land may be applied for, and leases of such pieces may be granted by the Government.
- (9.) Each application must set forth the nature of the machinery to be used, and describe the proposed method of working the claim, and the number of men the applicant proposes to employ, within a stated period.
- (10.) Each application must be accompanied by a deposit of the first year's rent, together with the survey fees when required under paragraph seven (7) of this regulation, which deposit of rent and survey fees shall be forfeited, should the lease, when approved, not be taken out. In the event of the application being refused after survey, the deposit of rent only will be returned.

Warden to record application.

78. The Warden shall record each application for an auriferous lease in a book to be kept by him, but he shall not submit a recommendation for the issue of any lease until after the ground applied for has been surveyed and described by a duly licensed or mining surveyor, and correct plans and descriptions have been lodged in his office.

Warden to report.

79. The Warden shall report on each application to the Government, and in such report shall specify whether, in his opinion, the lease should be granted or not; and whether it interferes with the rights of any claimholders already in occupation of the land proposed to be leased, or any part thereof; and if he recommends that the same should be granted, he shall report what number of men should be employed on the ground proposed to be demised.

Interim working until lease granted.

80. Pending the decision of the Government, the Warden may authorise the applicant for a lease temporarily to work the ground applied for at his own risk.

Exemption from work pending decision.

81. In all cases in which no objections have been lodged against any lease within thirty days from the date of the application being lodged with the Warden, the ground applied for shall, until the decision of the Government is made known, be worked half-handed; but when intimation has been given that the application has been granted, the ground shall, within one month, be effectually and continuously worked full handed. A failure to comply with this clause will entail forfeiture, whether the lease has been issued or not.

Sanction to races.

82. The Warden may sanction the cutting of any race or the performance of any other operation necessary for the profitable working of any leased area, although such race or other operation may not be executed upon the ground actually leased. Provided that such sanction be not prejudicial to public or private interests.

Lessee entitled to all gold found.

83. Leases issued under these regulations shall entitle the lessees to the absolute right to and interest in all gold in and upon the lands leased, to the exclusion of all other parties.

Exemption from work.

84. Upon good cause being shown, the Minister in charge of the Mining Department may authorise the exemption from work of a gold lease for any period not exceeding six months.

How applied for.

85. Any application for such exemption must be made through the Warden, who shall forward it, with his report, to the Minister in charge of the Mining Department for decision.

Warden may exempt for short time.

86. The Warden may, if he think fit, on his own responsibility, authorise the exemption from work of a gold lease for one month, on good cause being shown; but in this event the Warden shall report his reasons to the Minister in charge of the Mining Department.

Transfers.

87. Leases may be transferred in the form annexed upon payment of a fee of one guinea.

Date.

88. All leases granted under these regulations shall commence from a date to be fixed by the Governor.

Current leases.

89. These regulations shall not affect leases now in existence.

JUDICIAL REGULATIONS.

1. In all civil cases the proceedings shall be commenced by a plaint in the form No. 1 in the Schedule, or as near thereto as circumstances will permit.
2. The plaint shall be filed in the Warden's office five clear days before the return day of the summons.
3. The plaint shall set forth the name and address of the plaintiff, and also of the defendant, so far as the same are known to the plaintiff. It must set forth a sufficient cause of action or complaint, and conclude with a prayer for the relief to which the plaintiff shall conceive himself entitled.
4. The items or particulars of demand (if any) shall be annexed to, or contained in, the plaint.
5. In all cases where particulars of demand are required to be annexed, the plaintiff shall deliver to the Warden or his clerk at the time of filing the plaint as many copies of the particulars of demand as there are defendants to be served, and an additional copy to be attached to the summons.
6. Where the plaintiff sues for a debt or damages, but desires to abandon a portion, or to admit a set-off, and sue for the residue, the abandonment or the admission of the set-off shall be entered on the particulars and copies.
7. Upon the filing of the plaint the Warden or his clerk shall issue a summons in the form No. 2 in the schedule.
8. Such summons may be made returnable at any time fixed by the Warden.
9. Where a summons has not been served, successive summonses may be issued without entering a fresh plaint, provided that no successive summonses shall be issued on a plaint which has been filed more than three months.
10. Every summons shall be served at least four clear days before the return day thereof.
11. The service of the summons, except in the cases hereinafter specially provided for, shall be either personal or by delivering the same to some person apparently fourteen years old, at the place of abode or business of the defendant, but no place of business shall be deemed to be the defendant's place of business unless he be the master, or one of the masters thereof.
12. Where the defendant is working in any mine, or other works underground, it shall be sufficient service to deliver the summons at the mine, or works, to the engineman, banksman, or other person apparently in charge of the mine or works.
13. Service of a summons may be effected on a mining company, or other corporation, by delivering the summons to a secretary, manager, or clerk of the defendant, at any office within the gold field or jurisdiction of the court.
14. Where a defendant avoids service, or keeps his house or place of business closed in order to avoid service, it shall be sufficient service to affix the summons on the door of such house or place of business, or to leave the summons as near thereto as possible.
15. The above rules as to the mode of service of a summons shall apply to the mode of service of all summonses, subpoenas, processes, orders, or notices whatsoever, except where otherwise directed by the Act or Regulations.
16. No summons, subpoena, process, or notice shall be served on a Sunday, Good Friday, or Christmas Day, but such days shall be counted in the computation of time required in respect of service.
17. Except in the cases hereinafter provided for, wherever it is the intention of the defendant to dispute the right of the plaintiff to the relief sought for, or any part thereof, the defendant shall, at least two clear days before the return day of the summons, serve the Warden or his clerk with a notice of defence, in the form No. 3 in the schedule, containing a statement of the grounds upon which he relies.
18. Each party shall be entitled to procure the attendance of witnesses by means of subpoena in the form No. 4 in the schedule, or as near thereto as circumstances will permit. Every witness so summoned shall be entitled to require payment of all necessary expenses of attendance at the hearing.
19. In all actions for recovery of a debt or money demand the defendant shall be at liberty to include in the grounds of defence all matters of set-off.
20. In all other cases the defendant may pray for any cross relief to which he may conceive himself entitled as against the plaintiff in respect of the same subject matter.
21. The items or particulars of such set-off or the grounds upon which the cross relief is prayed, shall be set forth in the defendant's notice of defence.
22. Notices of demand of a trial by assessors shall be made in writing to the Warden or his clerk, two clear days before the day of hearing, and the summonses to the intended assessors shall be delivered forthwith for service.
23. If at the return day of the summons, or at any adjournment of the court at which it is returnable, the plaintiff does not appear, and the defendant does appear and does not admit the plaintiff's demand, the Warden may in his discretion award the costs in the same manner and to the same amount as if the case had been tried.
24. The Warden shall in each case direct what number of witnesses are to be allowed on taxation of costs between party and party, and their allowance shall in no case exceed the rates mentioned in the scale in the schedule.
25. All warrants of execution shall bear date on the day on which they are issued, and shall continue in force for twelve calendar months from such date and no longer, and shall be in the form in the schedule applicable to the particular case, or as near thereto as circumstances will permit.
26. Where a defendant has made default in payment of the whole amount awarded by the judgment, or of an instalment thereof, a warrant of execution may issue for the whole amount of judgment and costs then remaining unsatisfied.

27. All goods sold in execution shall be sold publicly, and for ready money, by the bailiff or his deputy, to the highest bidder, at or near the place where the same were levied upon, as may be convenient for the sale thereof.

28. Notice of sale under execution shall be given by the bailiff or his deputy, by affixing notice thereof upon or near the door of the house or place where the sale is to be made, four days at least before the day appointed for such sale, which shall not be earlier than the sixth day from the day of levying upon the goods.

29. If, before notice of appeal is served upon the Warden, execution shall have issued, and the amount of the judgment and costs of execution shall have been paid into the hands of the bailiff, or levied and not paid over to the successful party, the same shall remain in court to abide the result of the appeal.

30. Within five days after the time limited for giving notice of appeal, the appealing party shall give security to the satisfaction of the Warden, by bond with two sureties, or by deposit for the payment of the amount of the judgment, and the costs of appeal in the event of the judgment being upheld wholly or partially; and such bond or deposit shall be available to the opposite party as a security for the payment of any moneys which may be payable under the order made on appeal, or the judgment appealed against.

31. When the court of appeal has pronounced judgment, either party may deposit the original order of the court of appeal, or an office copy thereof, with the Warden, who shall thereupon enter judgment, or otherwise act according to the direction of the court of appeal.

32. In all cases where a notice or thing is required to be given or done within a period of twenty-four hours or forty-eight hours, no part of a Sunday, Christmas Day, or Good Friday, shall be included in the computation of such period.

33. All notices required by the Act or these Regulations may be given to the attorney or agent in lieu of the party.

34. The judgment in detainee, if for the plaintiff, shall be for the value of the goods detained, together with a sum to be stated in the judgment by way of damages for the detention and costs; but it may be made part of the order that on payment of damages for the detention and costs, and return of the goods on or before a day named, satisfaction shall be entered.

35. The forms in the schedule shall be adopted, so far as circumstances will permit, in all cases to which they are applicable.

36. In all cases where the practice or procedure of the Warden's court is not sufficiently defined by these regulations, the practice and procedure of the district courts shall, as far as possible, be adopted.

37. The scale of fees to be charged for processes issued out of Wardens' Courts shall be according to the schedule No. 13 hereto annexed, and all such fees shall be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose and be remitted monthly to the credit of the General Revenue.

38. In cases in which the value of the matter in dispute does not exceed £10 the Warden shall be guided in taxation of costs by the scale of fees in like cases in Courts of Petty Sessions. In cases in which the subject matter is of greater value than £10 he shall be guided by the scale of fees in the District Courts in cases of like amount. In all cases the Warden or Warden and Assessors shall determine what is the value of the matter in dispute.

39. Witnesses' expenses shall be allowed at the rate in the schedule No. 14.

GENERAL RULES IN INSOLVENCY.

IN pursuance of "The Insolvency Act of 1874," 38 Victoria, No. 5, and of all other powers and authorities in that behalf, It is ORDERED by the Judges of the Supreme Court of Queensland as follows, that is to say :—

Definition of terms.

1. In the construction of these rules and forms, the following terms shall (if not inconsistent with the context or subject-matter) have the respective meanings hereinafter assigned to them, that is to say :—

"The Act" shall mean "The Insolvency Act of 1874."

"Court" shall mean the court having jurisdiction in the matter;

"Judge" shall mean the judge of any such court;

"Debtor" shall include a firm of debtors in partnership;

"Attorney" shall mean any attorney, or solicitor entitled to practise in any such court;

"Name" of any person shall mean both the christian name or the initial letter or contraction of the christian name and the surname of such person;

"Gazetted" shall mean that the notice or thing is to be published in the Queensland Government Gazette;

And, unless there be something in the context inconsistent therewith, the provisions of "The Acts Shortening Act of 1867," and of section 4 of the Act, shall apply to these rules.

Sittings in chambers.

2. Any matter may be heard and disposed of in chambers by a judge, except the examination of the insolvent under section 164 of the Act, and the granting of a certificate of discharge.

3. Where the judge shall be of opinion that any matter ought to be heard and disposed of in open court, or all the contending parties shall require any matter to be so heard and disposed of, such matter shall be so heard and disposed of; or if part heard, shall be adjourned for the purpose of being further heard and disposed of in open court.

Proceedings.

4. In matters under the Act the proceedings may be in the several forms set forth in the schedule attached to these rules, or as near thereto as possible; and where forms for any proceeding in such matters are not provided in the schedule, the forms required may be framed by the parties, using as guides those so provided, so far as they are applicable.

5. All proceedings of the court shall remain of record in the court, so as to form a complete record of each matter, and they shall not be removed for any purpose, except for the use of the officers of the court or by direction of the Judge or upon subpoena duces tecum from some competent court, but they may at all reasonable times be inspected by the trustee, the insolvent, and any creditor who has proved, or any person on their behalf.

6. All summonses, petitions, notices, orders, warrants, and other process issued by the court shall be sealed.

7. [Sec. 125.] Where the court orders a general meeting of creditors to be summoned under section 125 of the Act, it shall be summoned as the court directs, and in default of any direction the registrar shall transmit a sealed copy of the order to the trustee fourteen days at least before the time appointed for the meeting to take place, and the trustee shall, ten days before such meeting, send a copy of the order to each creditor, or to his attorney, at the address given in his proof, or when he shall not have proved, the address given in the list of creditors by the insolvent, or such other address as may be known to the trustee.

8. All office copies of petitions, proceedings, books, papers, and writings, or any parts thereof required by any trustee, or by any person being an insolvent or debtor who has instituted proceedings under sections 202 or 204 of the Act, or by any creditor of any such person, or attorney of any such person or creditor, shall be provided by the registrar, and shall, except as to figures, be fairly written at length, and be sealed with the seal of the court, and delivered out without any unnecessary delay, and in the order in which they shall have been bespoken, and be charged and paid for at the rate of fourpence per folio of seventy-two words.

9. In lieu of attaching a copy of the Gazette to the proceedings in each insolvency or other matter, the registrar shall file with the proceedings the page of the Gazette in which the advertisement occurs, and in case of an advertisement in a local paper, he shall file the advertisement with a memorandum of the name of the paper and date of its publication; and for this purpose one copy of every Gazette and of each local newspaper in which any notice in any matter of insolvency in such court is inserted shall be left with the registrar by the person inserting the notice.

Where a corporate body is plaintiff, any affidavit in support of such petition or debtor's summons may be made by a director or other officer on its behalf.

13. A creditor desirous that a debtor's summons may be granted must file an affidavit of the truth of his debt, and lodge the summons, together with two copies thereof and three copies of his particulars of demand.

14. The particulars of demand shall be expressed with reasonable and convenient certainty as to dates and all other matters, but no objection shall be allowed to the particulars unless the court shall consider that the debtor has been misled by them.

15. The registrar shall seal such particulars, and such particulars shall then be deemed part of the summons, and the original summons shall be filed and the copies be sealed and issued to the creditor.

16. [Sect. 44.] The time to be specified in a debtor's summons for the debtor to pay the debt shall be the same time that is allowed for a defendant to apply for leave to appear to a writ under "The Bills of Exchange Act of 1867." Provided that such time may in any case be extended by the court on the application of the debtor.

17. Every debtor's summons shall be endorsed with the name and place of business of the attorney actually suing out the same; but in case no attorney shall be employed for the purpose, then with a memorandum expressing that the same has been sued out by the creditor in person.

18. [Sects. 48 and 49.] There shall be endorsed on the debtor's summons, in addition to an intimation of the consequences of neglect to comply with the requisitions of the summons, a notice to the debtor that if he disputes the debt and desires to obtain the dismissal of the summons he must file an affidavit with the registrar within the time allowed for his appearance, stating that he is not so indebted, or only so to a less amount than £50.

19. Where a debtor files the above-mentioned affidavit, the registrar shall fix the time and place at which the application for the dismissal of the summons will be heard by the court, and give notice thereof to the creditor and debtor three days before the day so fixed.

20. [Sect. 49.] Where proceedings on a debtor's summons have been stayed for the trial of the question of the validity of the debt claimed therein, and such question has been decided against the validity of the debt, the debtor, on production of the judgment of the court, or an office copy thereof, shall be entitled to have the debtor's summons dismissed, and, if the court thinks fit, with costs; but the order for costs shall not be enforced for seven days, or where the creditor has lodged a notice showing that he has taken the necessary steps to set aside the judgment, until after the final decision thereon.

21. Where proceedings on a debtor's summons are stayed upon security being given, the creditor shall take or continue proceedings for the payment of the debt within twenty-one days of the date on which the security was completed, and shall prosecute the same with effect and without delay, and if he fail so to do the debtor shall be entitled to have the summons dismissed with costs.

Debtors' petition.

22. [Sect. 43.] The court will adjudicate upon a debtor's petition on the application of the debtor, but it will not proceed to adjudicate except on such application. No such application will be entertained after the lapse of four weeks from the date when the petition reaches the principal registry.

Creditors' petition.

23. Where a petition is presented by two or more creditors not in partnership, each creditor must depose to the truth of such of the statements in the petition as are within his own knowledge, either in a joint or separate affidavit.

24. [Sect. 77.] After the presentation of a petition, upon the application of a creditor and upon proof by affidavit of sufficient grounds for the appointment of a receiver or manager of the property or business of the debtor, or any part thereof, the court may, if it think fit, make such appointment; and where the petition is dismissed the creditor shall pay such costs of the receiver or manager as the court may direct, and the court shall, if required, adjudicate with respect to any damages or claim thereto arising out of his appointment, or make such order thereon as it thinks fit, and such order shall be final and conclusive between the parties, and between them or either of them and the receiver or manager, unless the decision be appealed from.

25. [Sect. 59.] The time for appearance to a petition shall, unless the court shall otherwise order, be the same time as is allowed for appearing to a writ in an action at common law.

26. Where there are more respondents than one to a petition the rules as to service shall be observed with respect to each respondent; but where all the respondents have not been served, the petition may be heard separately or collectively as to the respondent or such of the respondents as has or have been served, and separately or collectively as to the respondents not then served, according as service upon them is effected.

27. [Sect. 61.] Where a debtor intends to show cause against a petition he shall at the time of entering the appearance, file a notice with the registrar showing the statements in the petition which he intends to deny or dispute.

28. On the appearance of the debtor to show cause against the petition, the petitioning creditor's debt, and act of insolvency, or such of those matters as the debtor shall have given notice that he intends to dispute, shall be proved, and if any new evidence of those matters, or any of them, shall be given, or any witness or witnesses to such matter shall not be present for cross-examination, and further time shall be desired to show cause, the court shall, if it think the application reasonable, grant such further time as it may think fit.

29. If any creditor shall neglect to appear on his petition, no subsequent petition against the same debtor or debtors, or any of them, either alone or jointly with any other person or persons, shall be presented by the same creditor without the special leave of the court to which the previous petition was presented.

30. [Sect. 44, par. 9.] A debtor shall not be adjudged insolvent on a petition in which the act of insolvency stated to have been committed by him is that the debtor has neglected to pay, secure, or compound with the petitioner a sum mentioned in a debtor's summons, where such debtor shall have applied for the dismissal of such summons until after the hearing of the application, or where the summons has been dismissed, or during a stay of the proceedings thereon.

31. [Sect. 44.] Where a petition is presented and the act of insolvency stated to have been committed is that the debtor has filed a declaration admitting his inability to pay his debts, the court may, if the debtor consents in writing thereto, hear and adjudicate upon the petition forthwith.

32. [Sect. 64.] Where proceedings on a petition have been stayed for the trial of the question of the validity of the petitioning creditor's debt, and such question has been decided in favor of the validity of the debt, the petitioning creditor may apply to the registrar to fix a day on which further proceedings on the petition may be had, and the registrar, on production of the judgment of the court in which the question was tried, or an office copy thereof, shall give notice to the petitioner by post of the time and place fixed for the hearing of the petition, and a like notice to the debtor at the address given in his notice to dispute.

33. Where proceedings on a petition have been stayed for the trial of the question of the validity of the petitioning creditor's debt, and such question has been decided against the validity of the debt, the debtor may apply to the registrar to fix a day on which he may apply to the court for the dismissal of the petition with costs, and the registrar, on the production of a copy of the judgment of the court in which the question was tried, or an office copy thereof, shall give notice to both the petitioner and debtor by post of the time and place fixed for the hearing of the application.

34. [Sect. 64.] Where proceedings on a petition are stayed upon security being given, the creditor shall take or continue proceedings for the payment of the debt within twenty-one days of the date on which the security was completed, and shall prosecute the same with effect and without delay, and if he fail so to do the debtor shall be entitled to have the petition dismissed with costs.

35. [Sect. 177, par. 1.] Where two or more petitions are presented to the same court against the same debtor, or against debtors being members of the same partnership, the petition which was first presented shall be first heard; and where such first petition shall not have been served, or where the debtor shows cause against the petition, or where delay will be avoided, any other petition which has been served may be heard, and if the court make adjudication thereon, the court shall, after the expiration of the time allowed for appeal against the adjudication, dismiss all the other petitions upon such terms as to costs as it shall deem just.

36. [Sect. 70.] Notice of the making of an order of adjudication shall be advertised according to the form in the schedule in one paper circulating in the locality of the court, and also in a paper circulating in the locality of the debtor's last usual place of business.

Annulling adjudication.

37. [Sect. 39.] Application to annul an adjudication under Sect. 39 of the Act, must be made within one month from the publication in the Gazette of the order of adjudication, unless the applicant shall satisfy the court that the adjudication did not come to his knowledge sufficiently early to enable him to apply within that time, in which case the court may permit the application to be made within such extended time as it shall think fit. Not less than four clear days' notice of such application shall be given to the trustee and the insolvent.

Motions and practice.

38. All applications to the court in the exercise of its primary jurisdiction by virtue of the Act, shall (unless herein or in the Act otherwise provided or the court shall in any particular case otherwise permit) be by way of motion, supported by affidavit, upon hearing which the court shall make such order therein as shall be just; but in cases in which any other party or parties than the applicant are to be affected by such order, no such order shall be made, unless upon the consent of such person or persons duly shown to the court, or upon proof that notice of the intended motion and copy of the affidavit in support thereof has been served upon the party or parties to be affected thereby four clear days at least before the day named in such notice as the day when the motion is to be made: provided, however, that the court may, if it shall think fit, in any case where the party or parties to be affected by the order, or any of them, shall not have been duly served with a notice of the motion for such order, make an order calling upon the party or parties to be affected thereby to show cause, at a day to be named by the court in such order, why such order should not be made.

39. Every order to show cause shall, unless the court otherwise order, be served upon the party or parties to be affected thereby, four clear days at the least before the day appointed for showing cause.

40. In cases in which personal service of any notice of motion, or of any rule or order of the court, is required, the same shall be effected, in the case of a notice of motion, by delivering at any time to the party or parties to be served, and each of them, a duplicate of the notice of motion; and in the case of a rule or order, by delivering to the party or parties to be served, and each of them, a sealed copy of the order or rule.

41. Notices of which substituted service may be made (otherwise than by post or advertisement) shall be served between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and six o'clock in the afternoon.

42. Every affidavit to be used in obtaining, supporting, or opposing any motion or order for showing cause for or against any order or rule of court, shall, unless the court otherwise order, be filed with the registrar two days before the day appointed for the hearing; and no affidavit in reply or in rejoinder is to be used except by leave of the court.

43. The registrar, upon any affidavit being left with him to be filed, shall indorse the same with the day of the month and year when the same was so left, and forthwith file the same, with the proceedings to which the same relates; and any affidavit left with a registrar to be filed, shall on no account be delivered to any person whatever, except by order of the court.

44. A short note of every motion shall be delivered to the registrar previous to the public sitting of the court, specifying the insolvency or other matter to which the same relates, the name of the party on whose behalf the same is made, the name and residence of the attorney of such party and of the counsel, if the same be made by counsel, and the name of any party, and the name and residence of his attorney, on whom any notice of such motion has been served.

45. Except in cases of emergency all motions shall be made and heard in the order in which they are set down, at the sitting of the court; but motions by the bar shall be heard in precedence to those by attorneys.

Service of a debtor's summons or an insolvency petition.

46. A debtor's summons shall be personally served by delivering to the debtor a sealed copy of the summons.

47. An insolvency petition shall be personally served by delivering to the debtor a sealed copy of the filed petition.

48. [Sects. 48 and 56.] If personal service cannot be effected, or if the court is satisfied by affidavit that the debtor is keeping out of the way to avoid such service, it may order service to be made by delivery of the summons or petition to some adult inmate at his usual or last known place of residence or business, or it may order that a notice of the granting of the summons, or filing of the petition, according to the form in the schedule, be gazetted, and that the publication of such notice in the Gazette shall be deemed to be service on the debtor on such day after publication as the court shall order.

49. Notice of the publication in the Gazette of the order of the court shall be given, according to the form in the schedule, in one paper circulating in the locality of the debtor's last known place of residence or business.

50. Service of the summons or petition shall be proved by affidavit with a sealed copy of the summons or petition attached and filed in court forthwith after the service.

51. Where the act of insolvency alleged in a petition to have been committed by the debtor is that the debtor has departed from his dwelling-house, or otherwise absented himself, the petition may be heard forthwith on a sealed copy of the petition being left at the usual or last known place of residence or business of the debtor.

52. Where a debtor is not in the Colony of Queensland, the court upon such evidence as shall satisfy it that the service will be effectual or sufficient, may order service to be made within such time and in such manner and form as it shall deem fit.

Proof of debts.

53. [Sects. 132 and 140.] A creditor may prove his debt at any duly summoned meeting of creditors, or at any time before the meeting, by delivering or sending through the post in a prepaid letter, before the appointment of a creditor's trustee, to the official trustee, and after the appointment of a creditor's trustee to such trustee, an affidavit according to the form in the schedule.

54. [Sect. 177, par. 6.] The affidavit may be made by himself or by any agent, or any clerk or other person in his employment; but if the affidavit is made by an agent or clerk it shall state that he is authorised by the creditor to make the affidavit, and that it is within his own knowledge that the debt was incurred for the consideration stated, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the debt still remains unpaid and unsatisfied.

55. [Sect. 177, par. 7.] A company or other body incorporated or authorised to sue may prove their debt by an agent, according to the form in the schedule.

56. [Sects. 132 and 140.] The trustee, upon receipt of a proof of a debt, shall examine the proof and the grounds of the debt, and in writing reject or admit it, in whole or in part, or require further evidence in support thereof; and when he shall admit or reject any claim he shall give notice thereof in writing to the creditor, stating, in case of rejection, the grounds thereof.

57. [Sect. 142.] If at any time after the admission of any debt by the trustee he shall have reason to believe that such debt has been improperly admitted, he may fix a day to consider the question of expunging the proof or reducing the amount thereof, of which day fourteen days' notice shall be given to the creditor.

58. Any creditor dissatisfied with any decision of the trustee in respect of a proof, may, within fourteen days after the receipt of the notice from the trustee, apply to the court to vary or reverse the decision, and the creditor shall give notice to the trustee thereof seven days before the day fixed for hearing the application.

59. The trustee in every insolvency shall send to the registrar of the court in which such insolvency is pending a copy certified by him of every resolution of a meeting of creditors, and shall also, on the first day of every month, send to the said registrar a certified list of all proofs, if any, tendered during the month next preceding, distinguishing in such lists the proofs admitted, those rejected, and such as stand over for further consideration.

60. Any separate creditor of any insolvent shall be at liberty to prove his debt under any adjudication of insolvency made against such insolvent jointly with any other person or persons. And under every such adjudication distinct accounts shall be kept of the joint estate and also of the separate estate or estates of each insolvent, and the separate estate shall be applied in the first place in satisfaction of the debts of the separate creditors. And in case there shall be an overplus of the separate estate, such overplus shall be carried to the account of the joint estate. And in case there shall be an overplus of the joint estate, such overplus shall be carried to the account of the separate estates of each insolvent in proportion to the right and interest of each insolvent in the joint estate. And the cost of taking such accounts shall be paid out of the joint and separate estates respectively as the court shall direct.

61. [Section 141.] When any proof shall be made in respect of a debt not accrued due at the date of adjudication, rebate shall be calculated at the rate of interest fixed by the parties, if any; such interest shall be included in the gross amount of the debt, and, if no such interest shall be so included, then at the rate of eight per cent.

Taking accounts of property mortgaged or pledged, and of the sale thereof.

62. Upon application by motion by any person claiming to be a mortgagee of, or to have security over any part of the insolvent's estate or effects, real or personal, and whether such mortgage or security shall be by deed or otherwise, and whether the same shall be of a legal or equitable nature, the court will proceed to inquire whether such person is such mortgagee, or is entitled to such security, and for what consideration and under what circumstances; and if it shall be found that such person is such mortgagee, or is entitled to such security, and no sufficient objection shall appear to the title of such person to the sum claimed by him under such mortgage or security, the court will then proceed to take an account of the principal, interest, and costs due upon such mortgage or security, and of the rents and profits, or dividends, interest, or other proceeds received by such person, or by any other person by his order or for his use, in case he shall have been in possession of the property over which the mortgage or security shall extend, or any part thereof, and the court will then direct notice to be given in such public papers as it shall think fit, when and where, and by whom and in what way the said premises or property, or the interest therein so mortgaged, or over which the security shall so extend, are to be sold, and that such sale be made accordingly, and that the trustee (unless it be otherwise ordered) shall have the conduct of such sale; but it shall not be imperative on any such mortgagee to make such application.

63. All proper parties shall join in the conveyance to the purchaser, where necessary, as the court shall direct.

64. The moneys to arise from such sale shall be applied in the first place in payment of the costs, charges, and expenses of the trustee, of and occasioned by the application to the court, and of attending such sale, and then in payment and satisfaction so far as the same shall extend of what shall be found due to such mortgagee or person so having security, for principal, interest, and costs, and that the surplus of the said moneys (if any) be paid to the trustee. But in case the moneys to arise from such sale shall be insufficient to pay and satisfy what shall be so found due to such mortgagee or person so having security, then he shall be entitled to prove as a creditor for such deficiency, and receive dividends thereon rateably with the other creditors, but so as not to disturb any dividend or dividends then already made.

65. For the better making such inquiry and taking such account, and making a title to the purchaser, all parties may be examined by the court upon interrogatories or otherwise, as it shall think fit, and shall produce before the court upon oath all deeds, papers, and writings in their respective custody or power, relating to the estate or effects of the insolvent, as the court shall direct.

Transfer of proceedings.

66. [Sect. 18.] Seven days' notice shall be given of applications to transfer proceedings from the Supreme Court to a District Court. If the application is made by a creditor, notice shall be given to the trustee and the insolvent; if by the trustee, such notice shall be given by advertisement in a local paper; if by the insolvent, such notice shall be given to the trustee.

67. Where all or any part of the proceedings in any insolvency are transferred from the Supreme Court to any District Court, or from any District Court to any other District Court, the registrar of the first court shall send by book-post the proceedings to the registrar of the court to which the proceedings are transferred; and the receipt of such proceedings shall be considered to authorise the latter court to continue such proceedings, without any further order for transferring them than is contained in the proceedings.

68. [Sect. 177, par. 4.] Where the judge of a District Court certifies that in his opinion the whole or any part of the proceedings would be more advantageously conducted in some other District Court, the registrar shall transmit a copy of such certified opinion to the trustee, who shall thereupon summon a meeting of creditors to consider the same.

69. If within thirty days after transmitting such notice to the trustee no resolution of the creditors objecting to such transfer shall be received by the court through the registrar, the transfer may be made accordingly.

Proxy.

70. [Sects. 93 and 177, par. 9.] The instrument appointing a proxy shall be in writing under the hand of the creditor, or if such creditor is a corporation or company, under the hand of an agent stating that he is duly authorised on its behalf; and such instrument shall be according to the form in the schedule, and shall, unless it is expressly stated otherwise therein, be deemed and allowed as an authority to the appointee of the creditor to vote for him and on his behalf at all meetings of creditors in the estate, or adjournments thereof, and generally to act for the creditor in all other matters in the estate, of whatsoever kind, as fully as the creditor himself could act.

71. The instrument must be produced at the first meeting at which the proxy attends and be filed.

Service of order of adjudication.

72. [Section 122.] A sealed copy of the order of adjudication shall be served on the insolvent personally, or by leaving the same with some adult inmate at his usual or last known place of residence or business.

Statement of affairs.

73. [Sects. 69, 122.] The statement referred to in section 69, and the inventory of the insolvent's property, and lists of his creditors and debtors, and of the debts due to and from them, shall be verified, on oath, in the form in the schedule.

74. [Sect. 122.] In cases of partnership the insolvents shall give a statement of their partnership affairs, and each insolvent shall give a statement of his separate affairs.

Meetings of creditors.

75. [Sect. 187.] If the petitioning creditor, or any other creditor, desire that the first meeting of creditors should be held at any other place than the principal registry, application, supported by affidavit showing grounds for the application, must be made at the hearing of the petition. If such application be by any other person than the petitioning creditor, two days' notice thereof must be given to the petitioning creditor, and if the court be reasonably satisfied that the circumstances of the estate and of the creditors require that the application should be granted, the same shall be granted accordingly.

76. With every such application for a meeting to be held elsewhere than in the principal registry there shall be deposited in the office of the registrar the sum of three pounds to defray the reasonable expenses of the registrar in attending such meeting, to be afterwards allowed to the applicant out of the estate by the trustee.

77. [Sect. 89.] Notice of the adjudication and first meeting of creditors shall be given immediately after making an order of adjudication, by the registrar, by advertisement in one local paper, according to the form in the schedule.

78. [Sect. 93.] A meeting of creditors shall not be competent to act for any purpose under the Act (except the election of a chairman, the proving of debts, and the adjournment of the meeting), unless there are present or represented thereat a quorum of at least three, or all the creditors if their number does not exceed three.

79. [Sect. 93.] Where within half an hour from the time appointed for the first meeting, a quorum of creditors is not present or represented, the meeting shall be adjourned to the same day in the following week, at the same time and place, or to such other day as the registrar or chairman may appoint, not being less than seven or more than twenty-one days; and if the meeting adjourned is the first meeting of creditors, or a meeting called to fill up a vacancy in the office of trustee, and a quorum is not present or represented at the adjourned meeting, the registrar shall report the fact to the court.

80. [Sect. 128.] Where a meeting of creditors is summoned by a trustee it shall be summoned by the trustee transmitting to each creditor, or to his attorney, at the address given in his proof, or when he shall not have proved, the address given in the list of creditors by the insolvent, or such other address as may be known to the trustee, seven days before the meeting is to be held, a notice setting forth the time and place at which it is to be held, and the purpose for which it is summoned.

81. [Sect. 164.] Fourteen days' notice of the time and place appointed for the last examination of an insolvent shall be given to the insolvent, and by advertisement in the Gazette and a local paper.

82. Wherever a meeting of creditors is called by notice, the proceedings had, and resolutions come to at such meeting, shall be valid, notwithstanding that some creditors shall not have received the notice sent to them, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

83. An affidavit by a trustee, or an officer of the court, or by any clerk of either, that letters have been put into a post office, shall be sufficient evidence of such notices having been duly sent to the persons to whom the same purport to have been addressed.

84. A secured creditor, unless he shall have realised his security, shall, previously to being allowed to prove or vote, state in his proof the particulars of his security and the value at which he assesses the same, and he shall be deemed to be a creditor only in respect of the balance due to him after deducting such assessed value of the security.

85. Any secured creditor so proving shall be bound to pay over to the trustee the amount which his security shall produce beyond the amount of such assessed value, and the trustee shall be entitled, at any time before realisation of such security by the creditor, to redeem the same upon payment of such assessed value.

86. The proof of any such creditor shall not be increased in the event of the security realising a less sum than the value at which he has so assessed the same.

87. The costs of summoning a meeting of creditors by any person other than the trustee shall be paid by the person at whose instance it is summoned, to be repaid to him out of the estate if the trustee, or the committee of inspection, or the court shall so direct.

Trustee.

88. Every receiver or manager of the property or business of the insolvent shall submit his accounts for examination to the trustee, and for that purpose attend on the trustee, at such reasonable times as he may require.

89. Immediately upon the appointment of a creditors' trustee being reported, the court shall give to the trustee a certificate declaring him to be the trustee, provided he has given such security, if any, as may have been required by the creditors.

90. [Sect. 92.] Omission to pass a resolution under sub-section 2 or 3 of section 92 of the Act shall not invalidate the appointment of a trustee, and where no security has been specified to be given by the trustee, he shall be deemed to be personally responsible, in the performance of the duties of his office, to the extent of the value of the property of the insolvent.

91. [Sect. 92.] Where, at the first meeting or any adjournment thereof, the creditors shall resolve that one or more named persons shall be accepted as the sureties of the trustee, it shall not be necessary for the said persons to justify their sufficiency.

92. Where no remuneration has been voted to a trustee, he shall be allowed out of the insolvent's estate such proper costs and expenses as may be incurred by him in or about the proceedings of the insolvency as the registrar shall allow.

93. [Sect. 136.] Where the creditors shall have failed to appoint the bank, into which the trustee is to pay all moneys received by him, he shall pay them into such bank as the committee of inspection, or where there is no committee, the court shall appoint.

94. Notice of the appointment of the trustee shall be gazetted forthwith, and be inserted in one local paper by the trustee, and he shall send a copy of the notice to each creditor.

95. [Sect. 127.] Where a trustee desires to apply to the court for directions in relation to any particular matter arising under the insolvency, he shall file his application, according to the form in the schedule, and the court shall then hear the application, or fix a day for its hearing, and direct the trustee to apply by motion.

96. In case any joint estate of any insolvents shall be insufficient to pay any costs or charges necessarily incurred in respect of the same, the court, on application of the trustee, may order such costs to be paid out of the separate estates of such insolvents, or one or any of them; and, vice versa, may order costs necessarily incurred for any separate estate, if the same were incurred with reasonable probability of benefit to the joint estate, to be paid out of such joint estate.

97. [Sect. 133, par. 3 and 135.] A trustee shall not be allowed in his accounts any sum paid by him to his attorney for his bill of costs, unless the same shall have been duly taxed as between attorney and client.

98. Where, in consequence of an insolvency being closed, or of a vacancy in the office of trustee, an official trustee becomes trustee, the attorney (if any) who has theretofore acted in the matter of the bankruptcy shall not be changed unless the court shall by order, setting forth the reasons for the change, otherwise direct.

99. The taxing officer shall not allow to a trustee any charges for attorney or counsel in attending the court to make any application unless the sanction in writing of the committee of inspection to their being or having been employed is produced to him, or unless the same has been allowed by the court as necessary.

100. [Sect. 47.] Where an order of adjudication has been made upon the petition of a secured creditor, who has been admitted as the petitioning creditor to the extent of the balance of the debt due to him after deducting the amount estimated by the creditor, as the value of his security, he shall upon the application of the trustee, made within two months after the date of the order of adjudication, give up the security to the trustee upon the payment to him of the value so estimated, and where the trustee does not so apply within such term he shall be considered to have waived his right to redeem the security by payment of such estimated value.

101. The trustee shall, within seven days of his allowing or disallowing a proof, file such proof with the registrar, with a memorandum thereon of his allowance or disallowance thereof.

102. [Sect. 132, par. 4.] Where the trustee is an auctioneer he shall not by himself or any partner act as such in the sale of any of the property vested in him, except with the consent of the committee of inspection, and upon such terms as it may think fit.

103. [Sect. 101, pp. 5 and 13.] Where a creditor desires a meeting of creditors to be held to remove a trustee or a member of the committee of inspection, he shall apply to some member of the committee of inspection to specially summon a meeting for that purpose, and for the purpose of appointing another person to fill the office, by sending a notice to each creditor seven days before the meeting is to be held; and where such member refuses to summon a meeting, or there is no committee of inspection, the creditor may apply to the court upon an affidavit stating specifically the facts which would appear to justify the removal of such trustee or a member of the committee of inspection, and the court may direct the registrar to summon a meeting accordingly, or if it think fit, may direct notice to be given to the trustee to show cause why the court should not remove him.

104. Where a creditors' trustee resigns, dies, or is removed prior to obtaining his release, the creditors shall determine what, if any, remuneration shall be paid for the services which he may have rendered.

105. [Sect. 197.] A trustee desirous of obtaining his release shall apply to the court to fix the time and place upon which he may make application to the court for such release, and upon such time being fixed he shall summon a meeting of the creditors to consider such application, stating therein the time and place on which the application to the court will be made.

106. A trustee applying for a release shall produce to the meeting of creditors a report from the accountant upon his accounts.

107. The release of a creditors' trustee shall operate as a removal of the trustee, and thereupon the official trustee shall be the trustee.

108. [Sects. 198 and 101.] Upon the close of an insolvency in which there is a creditors' trustee the trustee shall deliver a list of the outstanding property to the official trustee originally appointed in the estate, who shall thereupon be deemed to be the trustee, and shall realise the property, if practicable, and declare a dividend from the proceeds thereof in the same manner as if he had been the trustee by reason of there being no trustee acting during the continuance of the insolvency, as provided by section 101 of the Act.

109. Where a trustee shall resign, or be removed from his office, he shall, within four days thereafter, render to the registrar, to be filed with the proceedings, an account in writing showing what he has done while trustee, and shall duly account for all moneys or property of the insolvent. If he do not comply with these requisitions within the prescribed time the court shall enforce obedience thereto.

110. A creditor shall bear the cost of making proof of his debt, unless the court shall otherwise specially order, and no part of the expense of any competition for the office of trustee shall be paid out of the estate.

Official trustee.

111. [Sect. 101.] Where the official trustee is trustee of the property of an insolvent by reason of there being no trustee acting during the insolvency, he shall not be required to give security, but his accounts shall, if there be no committee of inspection, be audited by the accountant.

Committee of inspection.

112. Where the creditors neglect by resolution to fix the quorum required to be present at a meeting of the committee of inspection, the quorum shall be two; or if the number of the committee be less than three, the quorum shall be the whole number.

113. A resolution of the committee of inspection shall be passed unanimously, or by a majority in number of the members present at the meeting.

Dividends.

114. [Sect. 152.] Where a dividend is intended to be declared, the trustee shall give reasonable notice thereof to such of the creditors, mentioned in the insolvent's statement, as shall not have proved their debts, and the notice shall also be gazetted.

115. Notice of a dividend having been declared shall be gazetted and advertised in one local paper by the trustee according to the form in the schedule, and he shall also send a notice to each creditor who has proved, showing the amount of the dividend, and when and where it is payable.

116. The amount of the dividend may, at the risk of the creditor, be transmitted to a creditor by registered post letter, enclosing a cheque or post office order, less the cost of remittance, upon his returning the notice to the trustee with the receipt attached to it duly signed, or it shall be paid upon the production of the notice and the receipt to the trustee at the time mentioned in the notice.

117. All bills of exchange or other negotiable securities upon which proof has been made must be exhibited to the trustee before payment of dividend.

118. [Sect. 158.] A creditor may apply for the payment of a dividend withheld by a trustee by sending or giving to the registrar and the trustee a notice according to the form in the schedule, and the court may, if it shall see fit, make an order upon such application for the payment of the dividend without requiring the attendance of the creditor thereat.

119. [Sect. 151.] A creditor who is desirous of giving credit for the value of his security in order to entitle him to a dividend in respect of the balance of his debt after deducting the assessed value, shall give notice thereof to the trustee, and the value of his security shall be determined in the same manner as the value of the security is to be determined, as prescribed with reference to the balance upon which a secured creditor may vote, and such creditor shall give credit for the value within thirty days after he shall be called upon by the trustee so to do, unless he shall be out of the Colony of Queensland, and then within such reasonable time as the trustee may fix, having regard to the means of communication between the said colony and the place where the creditor may be, and in default thereof shall be deemed to be fully secured. If the trustee or any other creditor shall be dissatisfied with the value put on the security, the trustee may require the security to be realised.

120. [Sect. 157.] Where the produce of the estate of an insolvent is sufficient to pay twenty shillings in the pound and interest as hereinafter mentioned, and to leave a surplus, such surplus shall be paid by the trustee to such insolvent, his executors, administrators, or assigns; and every such insolvent shall be entitled to recover the remainder, if any, of the debts due to him; but such surplus shall not be paid until all the creditors who have proved shall have received interest upon their debts, to be calculated and paid at the rate and in the order following, viz.: All creditors whose debts are by law entitled to carry interest, in the event of a surplus, shall first receive interest on such debts at the rate of interest reserved, or by law payable or proveable thereon, to be calculated from the date of the order of adjudication; and after such interest shall have been paid, all other creditors who have proved shall receive interest on their debts from such date, at the rate of eight pounds per centum per annum.

Certificate of discharge.

121. [Sect. 167.] An insolvent intending to apply for a certificate of discharge, shall file an application with the registrar, who shall thereupon fix the time and place at which the application will be heard. Notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of the application for the certificate of discharge shall be gazetted, and also given to the trustee by the insolvent, twenty-one days before such day.

122. Every certificate shall take effect on and from the day of its date, and shall be gazetted by the insolvent.

123. An insolvent desirous of obtaining the assent of his creditors to his applying to the court for a certificate of discharge during the continuance of his insolvency, shall request the trustee to summon a meeting of his creditors, and thereupon the trustee, upon the deposit of twenty shillings for costs, shall summon such meeting: where at the meeting the creditors do not so assent, no other meeting shall be called for the same purpose until after the lapse of three calendar months.

Appeal.

124. [Sect. 16.] An appeal shall be entered with the Registrar of the Supreme Court, by leaving with him a copy of the appeal notice of motion.

125. In case of an appeal from District Courts, upon entering the appeal, a copy of the appeal notice shall be sent forthwith by the appellant, to the registrar of the court appealed from, who shall forthwith file the same with the proceedings, and a similar notice shall be delivered by the appellant to each respondent four days before the day on which he intends to move.

126. At or before the time of entering an appeal the party intending to appeal shall deposit with the registrar such sum, not being less than ten pounds and not exceeding forty pounds, as the court appealed from shall direct, to satisfy so far as the same may extend, any costs that the appellant may be ordered to pay, and in the absence of any such direction, the sum deposited shall be twenty pounds.

127. Where there are several respondents in separate interests, the court may, if it shall think fit, direct a separate deposit to be made as to every such respondent.

128. All appeals shall be brought on by motion, and no new evidence shall be received on any appeal unless the Court of Appeal shall so direct; but any of the parties shall be at liberty to bring before the Court of Appeal, by affidavit, the circumstances under which the decision or order appealed from was made.

129. Every affidavit intended to be used upon the hearing of any appeal shall be filed with the registrar, and a copy thereof sent by the appellant to the respondent four clear days before the day appointed for hearing.

130. In case of an appeal from a District Court, the registrar of the court appealed from shall, upon the application of the Registrar of the Supreme Court, transmit to him the file of proceedings in the matter under appeal.

Affidavits.

131. The Common Law Rules, respecting affidavits, shall, as far as practicable, apply in insolvency.

132. Any affidavit used in any matter of insolvency may be sworn as follows:—

- (1.) In the Colony of Queensland, before a court having jurisdiction in insolvency, or a judge thereof, or an officer thereof authorised to administer oaths in that court, or before a commissioner for affidavits or justice of the peace, and in case of proof of debts, before the trustee or a registrar.
- (2.) In any place in the British dominions out of the Colony of Queensland, before any court, judge, or justice of the peace, or any person authorised to administer oaths there in any court.
- (3.) In any place out of the British dominions, before a British minister, consul, vice-consul, or notary public, or before a judge or magistrate, his signature being authenticated by the official seal of the court to which such judge or magistrate is attached.

Security.

133. Where a person is required to give security, such security shall be in the form of a bond with one or more surety or sureties to the person proposed to be secured.

134. The bond of any person other than a trustee shall be taken in a penal sum to the amount of double the sum in question up to the sum of £1,000; and where the sum in question exceeds £1,000, in the sum of £1,000 beyond such sum, unless, in either case, the opposite party consents to it being taken for a less sum.

135. Where a person is required to give security, he may, in lieu thereof, deposit with the registrar a sum equal to the sum in question in respect of which security is to be given and the probable costs of the trial of the question, together with a memorandum to be approved of by the registrar and to be signed by such person, his attorney or agent, setting forth the conditions on which the money is deposited.

136. The security of a guarantee association or society may be given in lieu of a bond or a deposit.

137. In all cases where a person proposes to give a bond by way of security, he shall serve, by post or otherwise, on the opposite party and on the registrar, at his office, notice of the proposed sureties according to the form set forth in the schedule, and the registrar shall forthwith give notice to both parties of the time and place at which he proposes that the bond shall be executed, and shall state in the notice, that should the proposed obligee have any valid objection to make to the sureties, or either of them, it must then be made.

138. The sureties shall make an affidavit of their sufficiency according to the form in the schedule, unless the opposite party shall dispense with such affidavit, and such sureties shall attend the court to be cross-examined, if required.

139. The bond shall be executed and attested in the presence of the registrar, or before a justice of the peace, or an attorney.

140. Where a person makes a deposit of money in lieu of giving a bond, the registrar shall forthwith give notice to the person to whom the security is to be given of such deposit having been made.

Witnesses.

141. [Sects. 114 and 73.] A subpoena for the attendance of a witness capable of giving evidence concerning any matter in the court, before or after adjudication, shall be issued by the registrar at the instance of a trustee, a creditor, a debtor, or any respondent in any matter, with or without a clause requiring the production of books, deeds, papers, and writings in his possession or control, and in such subpoena the names of not more than three witnesses shall be inserted. A subpoena may be issued in blank as at common law.

142. A sealed copy of the subpoena shall be served personally on the witness, within a reasonable time before the time of the return thereof. A reasonable sum for expenses shall be paid or tendered to the witness at the time of service.

143. Service of the subpoena shall, where required, be proved by affidavit.

144. The court may in any matter limit the number of witnesses to be allowed on taxation of costs, and their allowance for attendance shall in no case exceed the highest rate of the allowances mentioned in the scale in the schedule.

145. The costs of witnesses, whether they have been examined or not, may, in the discretion of the court, be allowed.

Discovery of insolvent's property.

146. [Sect. 114.] Every application to the court under section 114 of "The Insolvency Act of 1874," shall be in writing, and shall state shortly the grounds upon which the application is made, and where the application is not made on behalf of the trustee, the grounds upon which the application is made shall be verified by affidavit.

Application for discharge during three years after close of insolvency.

147. [Sect. 176.] Where an insolvent who has not obtained his certificate of discharge shall, after the close of the insolvency, pay or tender to the several creditors who have proved their debts, a sum, which with the dividends paid shall make up not less than twenty shillings in the pound, and shall desire to obtain a certificate of discharge, he shall file with the registrar a statement, verified by affidavit, of the sums so paid or tendered, and when and where paid, with the receipts of the creditors or their representatives for the sums respectively paid to them written on or attached thereto.

148. The registrar shall appoint a day for the hearing of the application for the order of discharge, and a notice thereof shall be gazetted twenty-one days before the day appointed, and a copy thereof shall be sent by the insolvent to each creditor who has proved or claimed a debt under the insolvency.

149. Where a creditor cannot be found or is dead, and no representative is known, the insolvent may deposit the money payable to such creditor with the registrar.

Arrests, commitments.

150. [Sect. 118.] A warrant of seizure or a search warrant, or any other warrant issued under the provisions of the Act, shall be addressed to such person as the court may in each case direct.

151. [Sects. 71 and 72.] Where a debtor or an insolvent is arrested under a warrant issued under sections 71 or 72 of the Act, he shall be safely kept by being lodged within the prison, to the keeper of which the warrant is, amongst others, addressed; and in the case of a warrant under section 72 any books, papers, moneys, goods, and chattels in the possession of the insolvent, which may be seized, shall be lodged with the trustee forthwith.

152. An application to the court to commit any person for contempt of court shall be supported by affidavit, and be filed in the court in which the proceedings are.

153. Upon the filing of such application the registrar shall fix a time and place for the court to hear the application, and shall issue a notice to be served personally on the person sought to be committed three days at least before the day of hearing the application, unless the court shall, by order upon good cause shown, direct service of the notice to be made in some other manner, in which case it shall be served together with a copy of the order, in the manner so directed.

Setting aside pay, &c.

154. [Sect. 103.] Where an order of court is made under section 103 of the Act, the registrar shall give to the trustee a sealed copy of the order, who shall submit the same to the chief of the department under which the salary, emolument, pension, or compensation is enjoyed, for the purpose of his consent to the order being written thereon.

155. [Sect. 104.] Where a trustee intends to apply to the court for an order for payment by an insolvent of a portion of his salary or income under section 104 of the Act, he shall give notice to the insolvent of his intention, of the time and place fixed for the hearing of his application, and that the insolvent is at liberty to attend and show cause against an order being made on the application.

156. [Sect. 104.] Where an order has been made for the payment by an insolvent, or by his employer for the time being, of a portion of his income or salary, the insolvent may, upon his ceasing to receive a salary or income of the amount he received when the order was made, apply to the court to rescind the order, or to reduce the amount ordered to be paid by him to the trustee.

Enforcement of debt against undischarged insolvent.

157. [Sect. 176, par. 2.] Where after the expiration of a period of three years from the close of an insolvency, in which the insolvent has not obtained a certificate of discharge, an application is made to the court for its sanction to the enforcement by a creditor of the payment of the balance remaining unpaid of a debt proved under the insolvency, the creditor shall file a statement, verified by affidavit, showing the dividend paid under the insolvency, the balance remaining unpaid, and the property against which he seeks to enforce payment, and that such property is the property of the insolvent, and the registrar shall thereupon appoint a time and place for the hearing of the application, and direct notice of the time and place appointed for the hearing, according to the form in the schedule, to be served personally on the insolvent, or at his usual or last known place of residence or business.

158. At the hearing of the application service of the notice on the insolvent shall be proved, unless he appears, and the court if it think fit may refuse the application, or adjourn the hearing to some other day, and in such latter case shall direct the creditor to cause a notice to be gazetted and inserted in one local paper, seven days before the day to which the hearing is adjourned, according to the form in the schedule.

159. At the adjourned hearing the creditor shall produce a copy of the Gazette and of the paper in which the notice was published, and the court may then hear all persons claiming to be creditors of the debtor before or since the close of the insolvency, and make such order in the matter as it thinks fit, or adjourn the hearing for further evidence.

Costs.

160. Every order for payment of money and costs, or either of them, shall be sealed with the seal of the court, and be signed by a registrar, and shall be forthwith filed with the proceedings.

161. The costs directed by any such order to be paid shall be taxed by the registrar on production of an office copy of such order, and the allocatur shall be signed and dated by the registrar taxing the costs.

Trial by jury.

162. [Sect. 23.] Where upon any application to the court for its decision on any question, the court, either on its own motion or on the application of any person, shall have directed that a question of fact be tried by a jury, such question of fact shall be reduced into writing and submitted to the judge for his approval, and shall, when approved, be signed by the registrar and filed, and shall be called the Record for Trial; but the court shall have power to allow any amendment thereof at any time upon such terms as it may think fit.

163. The common law rules respecting trials by jury shall as far as practicable apply in insolvency.

164. The verdict or finding of the jury, as the case may be, shall be endorsed by the registrar on the record for trial, and with the jury panel and the names of the jurors who were sworn, endorsed thereon.

Sittings of a District Court.

165. Any times appointed for the sitting of a District Court in matters of insolvency other than those appointed for the transaction of the general business of the court, shall be notified by advertisement in such manner as the judge in each case shall direct.

Examination of insolvent or witness.

166. [Sect. 182.] All evidence and depositions taken before any examining court shall be reduced into writing, and signed by the deponent.

167. [Sect. 183.] Every shorthand writer appointed under Sect. 183 of the Act shall be paid a sum not exceeding two guineas per day, and a sum not exceeding one shilling per folio of ninety words of any transcript of the evidence that may be required.

Writs of execution.

168. Writs of execution shall be according to the forms in the schedule, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case may require, and such writs, when sealed, shall be delivered to the sheriff or other officer to whom the execution of the like writs issuing out of the same court in its Common Law Jurisdiction belongs, and shall be executed by such sheriff or other officer as nearly as may be in the same manner in which he doth or ought to execute such like writs; and for the execution of such writs such sheriff or other officer shall not take or be allowed any fees other than such as are or shall be from time to time allowed by lawful authority for the execution of the like writs issuing out of the same Court in its Common Law jurisdiction.

169. The Common Law Rules respecting executions shall, as far as practicable, apply in insolvency.

170. On satisfaction by levy or otherwise, in whole or in part, the party on whom the order is made may, on delivery of a search stamp, cause such satisfaction to be entered on the order for payment.

171. Unless such satisfaction shall appear by the return of the writ, or shall be admitted by the party in whose favor the order shall be made, or his attorney, application must be made to the court to order such entry of satisfaction.

Duties of Accountant, and the books and accounts to be kept by Registrars and Trustees.

172. [Sect. 192.] The Accountant shall keep a book entitled "The Register of Insolvencies in Brisbane," and another book entitled "The Register of Insolvencies in Bowen," according to the form in the schedule, with such additional headings as he may find necessary.

173. The Accountant shall cause an entry to be made in the proper register of every gazetted notice applicable or defined by the headings, and shall cause such registers to be examined on every Monday with the then last published Gazette, so as to insure that all the notices published therein have been duly entered in such registers.

174. The registers shall be open for searches by the public at all hours that the office of the Accountant is open, upon a request in writing with a search stamp affixed thereon being lodged.

175. The Registrar of the Supreme Court, and every registrar of a District Court having jurisdiction in insolvency, shall keep books according to the forms in the schedule, and the particulars given under the different heads in such books shall be entered forthwith after the proceeding shall be had.

176. The registrars shall make and transmit such extracts from such books as the Accountant may from time to time require to be made and transmitted to him.

177. The trustee shall keep a book to be entitled "The Record," in which he shall record all minutes, all proceedings had, and resolutions passed at any meeting of creditors, or of the committee of inspection, statement of insolvent's affairs, reports, and all proceedings necessary to give a correct view of the management of the insolvent's property; but he shall not be bound to insert in the record any document of a confidential nature (such as the opinion of counsel on any matter affecting the interest of the creditors), nor need he exhibit such document to any person other than the members of the committee of inspection.

178. The trustee shall also keep a book to be entitled "The Estate Book," according to the form in the schedule, in which he shall enter from day to day the receipts and payments made by him.

179. The Record and the Estate Book may be inspected by the committee of inspection and the creditors or their agents.

180. The trustee shall submit the Record and Estate Book, together with a copy of the latter, to the committee of inspection at each of the meetings required by Section 123 of the Act.

181. The committee of inspection shall audit the Estate Book, and certify therein under their hands the day on which the said book was audited, and shall in like manner certify the copy of the said book.

182. The trustee shall, forthwith after the said audit shall have been held, transmit to the Accountant the copy so certified, adding thereto his certificate that it is the copy certified by the committee. He shall also forward therewith an office copy of the statement of affairs filed by the insolvent, showing thereon in red ink the difference between the sums stated by the insolvent and the sums realised or estimated by the trustee to be realised, and shall also state the reasons why any property not realised has not been realised.

183. Every trustee, before calling a meeting of the creditors to consider an application to be made by him to the court for his release, shall apply to the Accountant for a report on his accounts, and the Accountant shall make such report and transmit it to the trustee, who shall produce the same at such meeting and to the court when making such application.

184. Upon a trustee resigning, or being released or removed, from his office, he shall deliver over to the Accountant all books kept by him, and all other books, documents, papers, and accounts in his possession in any way relating to the office of trustee.

185. [Sect. 193.] Each trustee shall, within fourteen days after the 31st day of December in each year, transmit to the Accountant a statement according to the form in the schedule of every insolvency in which he is a trustee, and the Accountant shall cause the returns so made to be regularly bound up and preserved, according to alphabetical order of the courts in which the proceedings were had, in volumes to be kept at all times in his office, with an index thereto framed by him, and which volumes may be searched by the public; and any trustee who shall fail to make such return may be removed from his office by the court at the instance of any one creditor, or of the Accountant, or be subject to such order and to such costs as the court may think proper to make.

186. The Accountant shall take cognizance of the conduct of trustees, and in the event of any trustee not faithfully performing his duties, and duly observing all the requirements imposed on him by statute, rules, or otherwise, relative to the performance of his duties, or in the event of any complaint being made to the Accountant by any creditor in regard thereto, he shall inquire into the same, and if not satisfied with the explanation given, he shall report thereon to the court, which, after hearing the trustee, may remove him from his office, or otherwise make such order in the matter as the justice of the case may require.

Proceedings for liquidation by arrangement or composition with creditors.

Sections 202 and 204.

187. Proceedings under these sections shall be instituted by the debtor by petition and affidavit thereto annexed according to the forms given in the schedule.

188. The first general meeting shall be summoned, to be held at the place mentioned in the affidavit filed with the petition (subject to such place being changed by order of the court, as hereinafter provided), and the time of meeting shall be at a stated hour between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. on a day within one calendar month from the presentation of the petition, unless the court in any particular case shall otherwise order.

189. The first general meeting of creditors shall be summoned by notice according to the form in the schedule.

190. All first general meetings shall be summoned as follows:—

A sufficient number of forms of such notice, duly signed, addressed, and stamped for post, shall be delivered to the registrar, together with a request and list of creditors, according to the forms in the schedule, and such list may be added to, or additional requests and lists be filed, as circumstances may require. Every request shall bear a stamp calculated at the rate of threepence for each notice required to be sent. The registrar shall cause the notices to be checked with the list or lists delivered to him, and to be sealed with the seal of the court, and to be posted to the creditors, and the person posting the same shall forthwith make and file an affidavit, exhibiting a form of notice, and stating that he had posted similar notices to the persons mentioned in the lists delivered to the registrar, and stating also the date and place of posting.

191. The debtor shall also deliver to the registrar a notice according to the form in the schedule, to be gazetted seven days, at least, before the meeting is to be held.

192. Notices summoning any first general meeting shall be posted at least fourteen days before the day on which the meeting is to be held.

193. Upon sufficient cause proved to the satisfaction of the court by the debtor or by any creditor, either ex parte or otherwise, the court may order and direct the place of any general meeting to be changed, provided application be made in such time as will allow notice of the change to be given to the creditors as hereinafter directed. Any order so made by the court shall be according to the form in the schedule, and a copy thereof shall be gazetted forthwith, and notice thereof shall be given by the registrar by sending by post, on or before the eighth day prior to the meeting, a sealed office copy of the order of the court addressed to the several creditors, and to the debtor. The expense of and incident to such order, and despatching copies thereof to the creditors as aforesaid, shall be borne and paid in such manner as the court shall direct; and in case of non-compliance, the copies of the order shall not be sent, but the meeting shall be held as originally summoned.

194. The court may at any time after the presentation of a petition restrain further proceedings in any action, suit, execution, insolvency petition, or other legal process against the debtor or his estate in respect of any debt provable; or it may allow such proceedings, whether in progress at the filing of the petition or subsequently commenced, to proceed upon such terms as the court may think just. The court may also, at any time after presentation of the petition, appoint a receiver or manager of the property or business of the debtor, or of any part thereof, and may direct immediate possession to be taken of such property or business, or any part thereof.

195. Any receiver or manager so appointed shall enter upon and act in the performance of his office at such time and in such manner, and to such extent as the court may from time to time direct.

196. The debtor shall state in his petition the estimated amount of the debts owing by him to his creditors, and where no receiver or manager has been appointed by the court, a majority in value of such creditors may at any time prior to the passing of the special or extraordinary resolution, as the case may be, nominate and appoint a receiver or manager of the effects or business of the debtor, or any part thereof, according to the form in the schedule. Where any such receiver or manager has been so appointed, he shall investigate the state of the debtor's affairs, and report thereon to the general meeting of creditors. The nomination and appointment of any such receiver shall be confirmed by the court upon summary application in any case in which the debtor refuses to give possession or control to the receiver or manager so appointed. Any such nomination paper shall be in duplicate, and may be signed by the creditors in their individual or partnership names, or by some person who shall state in his signature that he does so by procuration on the creditor's behalf. The signatures or debts need not be verified further than by the affidavit of one of the three principal creditors signing the nomination paper (or a partner in the firm of one of them) according to the form in the schedule, and such affidavit shall be filed in court with one of the nomination papers. If any receiver or manager has been appointed by the court, the nominee of the creditors shall be forthwith substituted in his place, and the court shall order accordingly.

197. Where a receiver or manager has been appointed, the court may at any time cancel his appointment by consent of the debtor and of the creditor or creditors (if any) upon whose application the appointment was made, and of any creditor or creditors whose proceedings may have been restrained as aforesaid, or if the court shall see fit.

198. Where a receiver or manager has been appointed he shall be entitled to the custody of the books and effects of the debtor, and the debtor or any person having the previous custody thereof on his behalf shall forthwith deliver the same to the receiver.

199. The receiver or manager shall at all times permit the debtor or any of his creditors or their agents to have access to and inspect the debtor's books of account.

200. Where proceedings have been instituted for liquidation or composition, the court may adjudicate the debtor insolvent if, in the opinion of the court, the property of the debtor cannot be sufficiently protected by the exercise of the power hereinbefore given to restrain suits and actions, and the appointment of a receiver or manager; but in any such case all proceedings under such order of adjudication shall be stayed immediately upon the making thereof, and until the creditors shall have passed some special or extraordinary resolution in reference to the liquidation or composition, and in the event of any such resolution being duly passed, the adjudication shall be forthwith annulled.

201. In the event of any neglect on the part of the creditors to pass such resolution, the court may, on the application of any of the creditors, and after notice to the debtor, make an order of adjudication against the debtor, or direct the insolvency to be proceeded with, as the case may be.

202. The chairman of the first general meeting shall be elected by a majority of the persons present thereat claiming to be or to represent creditors. The chairman of any subsequent general meeting shall be elected by a majority in value of the creditors present or represented thereat who have proved their debts.

203. Creditors may prove their debts and appoint proxies, as in insolvency.

204. All debts which would have been provable in insolvency, had the debtor been adjudicated insolvent at the date of the institution of the proceedings, shall be provable under any such proceedings.

205. All proofs and proxies intended to be used at any general meeting, and not previously filed, shall be handed in to the chairman of the meeting. Any objection thereto shall be marked thereon by the chairman, and shall be dealt with by the registrar on the resolution being presented to him for registration.

206. A secured creditor, unless he shall have realized his security, shall, previously to being allowed to prove or vote, state in his proof the particulars of his security and the value at which he assesses the same, and he shall be deemed to be a creditor only in respect of the balance due to him after deducting such assessed value of the security. In cases of liquidation by arrangement any secured creditor so proving shall be bound to pay over to the trustee the amount which his security shall produce beyond the amount of such assessed value, and the trustee shall be entitled, at any time before realization of such security by the creditor, to redeem the same upon payment of such assessed value. The proof of any such creditor shall not be increased in the event of the security realizing a less sum than the value at which he has so assessed the same.

207. Where any creditor shall desire to retire from any meeting, and not to be considered as present, he may withdraw his proof, without prejudice to his again proving his debt on any subsequent occasion.

208. The debtor shall produce to the first general meeting, and also in case there be any, to the second general meeting, a statement showing the whole of his debts and assets, and the names and addresses of the creditors to whom such debts respectively are due. The name of each creditor in such statement shall be numbered consecutively, and the list of creditors whose debts do not exceed £10 shall be separated from and follow after the list of those creditors whose debts exceed that amount. The debtor's statement of affairs shall be as near as may be in the form required in insolvency.

209. The resolution passed at the first general meeting (or first and second general meetings, as the case may be) shall determine whether the affairs of the debtor are to be liquidated by arrangement, and not in insolvency, or whether any and what composition shall be accepted in satisfaction of the debts due to the creditors from the debtor, or it may reject either of such modes of arrangement. The resolution may declare to whom the registration of the resolution and the debtor's statement of affairs shall be intrusted, and the original resolution and statement shall forthwith be delivered accordingly to the person so appointed; and in the event of no such declaration being made in the resolution, the same shall be registered by the debtor. Only such resolutions as are reduced into writing, and are signed by or on behalf of the statutory majority of the creditors assembled at a meeting, shall be taken cognizance of by the court, but the signatures of such creditors may be subscribed subsequently to the meeting, but prior to the filing or registration of the resolution.

210. The chairman shall be bound forthwith to deliver to the person, if any, so appointed, or, in default of such appointment, to the debtor, every declaration or affidavit for proof of debt and proxy paper of what nature or kind soever, and whether in due form or otherwise, which shall have been received at the general meeting or meetings, and also the debtor's statement of affairs, and in default thereof may be summoned before the court, and the court may make such order in the matter as it shall think fit.

211. In the event of a liquidation by arrangement being resolved upon at any general meeting, and no trustee with or without a committee of inspection being then appointed, a subsequent meeting shall be held at such time and place, at an interval of not more than a week, as shall be appointed by the resolution, or in default of any such subsequent meeting being so appointed, the same shall be held on the same day in the following week, at the same time and place. No notice of any such subsequent meeting need be given to the creditors.

212. In cases of liquidation by arrangement the general meeting shall by special resolution declare what security, if any, shall be given by the trustee, and what remuneration, if any, the trustee shall receive, or they may resolve to leave his remuneration to the committee of inspection, or to a subsequent general meeting.

213. Where the creditors at the first general meeting duly pass a resolution that a composition shall be accepted in satisfaction of the debts due to them from the debtor, they shall specify in their resolution the amount of the composition and the instalments and dates at which the same shall be payable, and they may name some person as trustee for receipt and distribution of the composition and any negotiable securities which may be given for the same.

214. Instead of specifying by their resolution the security to be given, the creditors may resolve that the composition, or some part or instalment thereof, shall be secured in such manner as may be approved by a creditor or creditors to be named by the resolution.

215. The extraordinary resolution may provide that the terms of the composition be embodied in a deed between such parties and containing such covenants for payment of the composition, and for protecting and releasing the debtor, and such other covenants and such provisions for securing the composition, either by assignment of property, or by inspection of the debtor's business or otherwise, as the nature of the case may require, and as the resolution may specify in particular or general terms.

216. Where, at the first general meeting, a resolution has been passed, resolving that a composition shall be accepted in satisfaction of the debts due to the creditors from the debtor, such resolution shall be filed with the statement of the debtor's affairs, proofs, and proxies within three days, and another general meeting shall be appointed to be held at an interval of not less than seven days nor more than fourteen days from the date of the meeting at which the resolution was first passed. The second general meeting shall be held at the same place as the first general meeting, unless the resolution at such first general meeting shall have otherwise directed. Notice thereof, according to the form in the schedule, shall be given to every creditor in manner provided with respect to first general meetings, with this addition, that the notice to every creditor who was not present or represented at the first general meeting shall be sent by registered-post letter. Such notices shall be sent on or before the sixth day prior to the day on which the second meeting is appointed to be held. In the event of notice not being requested to be sent by the debtor or his attorney on the sixth day prior to the second meeting, any creditor may file a similar request, desiring the registrar to forward the notices summoning the second meeting; and in the event of any meeting being so summoned it shall be sufficient if the notices are signed by the registrar and sealed, and are posted on the third day prior to the meeting.

217. At the second general meeting of creditors, the creditors assembled may confirm the resolution passed at the first general meeting, or they may pass a special resolution that the affairs of the debtor are to be liquidated by arrangement and not in insolvency.

218. The person to whom the registration of the special or extraordinary resolution may have been entrusted, or the debtor or his attorney, as the case may be, shall file the same in court, together with the debtor's statement of affairs and all proofs and proxies, within three days after he shall have received the same, or in default thereof shall be summoned before the court, and some person able to depose thereto shall verify and identify the resolutions, statement, proofs, and proxies so filed as being the whole of the resolutions, statement, proofs, and proxies come to and produced at the meeting or meetings, when such special or extraordinary resolutions were passed.

219. In cases of proceedings for liquidation, by arrangement or composition, instituted by partners, separate meetings of the different classes of creditors shall be held; thus, if the partnership consists of A. B. and C., a meeting of the joint creditors of A. B. and C. shall be first held, and separate meetings of the separate creditors of A. B. and C. shall be held at a date or time subsequent to the meeting of the partnership creditors. The joint creditors may come to such resolution as they may think fit with regard to the joint estate. The separate creditors may also come to such resolution as they may think fit as regards the liquidation of the estate of their individual debtor, but in the event of their determining upon his insolvency, or the liquidation of his estate by arrangement, they shall choose the same trustee, if any, as has been or shall be appointed by the joint or partnership creditors, but they may appoint a committee of inspection from their own body, if they think fit, or they may adopt the committee, if any, appointed by the joint or partnership creditors. In the event of the separate creditors of any such debtor agreeing to accept a composition, in cases where the joint creditors have resolved on a liquidation by arrangement, the assets of such separate debtor shall be made available by the trustee for or towards the payment thereof, in such manner as the court shall direct and approve, and any surplus of such separate estate remaining in the hands of the trustee, after payment of or provision for such composition, and all proper costs incurred in connection therewith, shall be deemed partnership assets. If in any such case the separate debtor shall be a member of more than one firm, the surplus of his separate estate shall be applied in such manner as the court may direct.

220. If the petition be by partners, and any two or more of such partners constitute a separate and independent firm, the creditors of such firm may likewise come to a separate resolution as regards the liquidation of such minor partnership estate, and where any surplus shall arise upon the liquidation thereof, the same shall be carried over to the separate estates of the partners in such minor firm according to their respective rights therein.

221. In cases of proceedings for or towards liquidation by arrangement or composition by an individual debtor, his creditors and debts shall be deemed to be and include not only those creditors to whom or those debts in respect of which he is individually responsible, but also those creditors and debts to whom or in respect of which he is also responsible jointly with any other person or persons; and the statutory majority required for the purpose of any resolution shall be a collective majority of the whole of such joint and separate creditors assembled at any meeting. In any such last mentioned proceedings the terms of the resolution as regards joint and separate creditors need not be identical, and, if so desired, the resolution may provide for the payment of a composition to the separate creditors, and that the rights of the joint creditors shall not be prejudiced or affected thereby.

222. The creditors assembled at any general meeting may include in their resolution a direction that the proceedings be transferred to any District Court; and upon any such resolution being filed, the proceedings shall be forthwith transferred by the registrar in accordance therewith; and the court to which the same shall have been transferred shall thereafter act in the matter of the proceedings in like manner as if the same had been properly instituted therein in the first instance.

223. Every creditor in respect of a provable debt shall, in the event of a liquidation by arrangement being resolved upon, be absolutely restrained from commencing or continuing or enforcing any proceedings whatsoever against the debtor or his property, notwithstanding that such creditor has not received notice of the general meeting, unless the court shall be of opinion that such creditor's rights have been prejudicially affected by the resolution, and that the estate would yield a larger dividend if administered in insolvency.

224. Where insolvency occurs during the continuance of a liquidation by arrangement, the trustee under such liquidation shall pay over and account for to the trustee to be appointed under the insolvency any moneys or property of the debtor which have come to his hands, and in the event of a dividend having been paid to some of the creditors the court shall make such order for the appropriation thereof as will equalize the distribution of the moneys or property amongst the creditors who would or should have been entitled thereto under the liquidation proceedings.

225. In case of liquidation by arrangement, all proper costs of and incidental to the proceedings prior to the passing of the resolution shall be paid by the trustee out of the estate of the debtor, in like manner and in the like priority as the costs of a petitioning creditor under insolvency petition.

226. Where insolvency occurs pending proceedings for or towards liquidation by arrangement or composition with creditors, the proper costs incurred in relation to such proceedings shall be paid by the trustee under the insolvency out of the debtor's estate, unless the court shall otherwise order.

227. Where any resolution is required to be passed or any act to be done by the creditors present or represented at any meeting, the majority required for the purpose shall, in the absence of any enactment to the contrary, be a majority in value of the creditors present or represented thereat.

228. Resolutions duly come to at any meeting shall have full force and effect, notwithstanding that it may also be resolved that for other purposes the meeting shall stand adjourned.

229. Upon presentation of a special or extraordinary resolution for registration the registrar shall examine the same, and may hear any creditor who shall have given him notice of his desire to be heard thereon. The registrar, being satisfied that the requirements of the statute and of these rules have been complied with, shall register the same, making a memorandum thereon, and on the debtor's statement of affairs, as follows:—

"Registered day of 187 Registrar," and shall seal the same with the seal of the court. The registrar, in cases of liquidation by arrangement, shall thereupon deliver to the trustee a certificate according to the form in the schedule. The registration of any special or extraordinary resolution, or the refusal to register the same by the registrar, shall be an act that may be appealed from by the debtor or any creditor who was heard before the registrar on the occasion of such registration or refusal. The registrar shall, where he refuses to register such resolution, certify the grounds of such refusal by memorandum under his hand, and file it with the proceedings.

230. The resolution and statement so registered shall at all times be open for inspection by any creditor whose name appears on the statement, or by any person on his behalf.

231. If a receiver or manager has been appointed, his duties shall terminate upon the appointment of a trustee in cases of liquidation by arrangement, and upon the passing of the extraordinary resolution, in cases of composition, unless such resolution shall otherwise provide.

232. Where a receiver or manager has been appointed and his duties are concluded, he shall render his account, and pay or deliver over any money or property in his hands to the trustee (in cases of liquidation by arrangement), or to the debtor or his nominee (in cases of composition).

233. The court shall have the same power and discretion as to the appointment, remuneration, and removal of the receiver or manager, and in the settlement of his accounts, and in directing the appropriation of moneys or property in his hands, as is exercised by the court in its equitable jurisdiction, or as near thereto as may be.

234. Neither the resolutions nor the proofs or proxies of creditors assembled at any meeting shall be objected to or refused by the registrar by reason of any informality therein, unless he shall be of opinion that such informality is matter of moment, in which event he shall refer the matter to the judge.

235. The passing of a special resolution (in the case of liquidation by arrangement) shall be deemed and taken as conclusive evidence that the debtor has complied with the provisions of the statute with regard to the statement of his affairs required to be submitted to the general meetings of his creditors. The debtor shall, however, at all times render to the trustee every information in his power with reference to his debts and assets, and shall in default be liable to be summoned and examined before the court thereon.

236. Where liquidation by arrangement and not in insolvency has been resolved on, the creditors may, at the same meeting at which such resolution is passed, resolve whether the debtor's discharge shall be granted either forthwith or at a date to be specified in the resolution, or subject to any and what conditions. In default of any resolution being then come to as to the debtor's discharge, a general meeting shall be summoned for the purpose of considering the grant thereof, either when the trustee shall see fit, or when the committee of inspection (if any), or when the debtor, with the concurrence of one-fourth in value of his creditors, who have proved, shall require the trustee to summon the same.

237. The resolution to be come to at any such meeting, and the report thereof to the registrar, and the debtor's discharge, shall be according to the form in the schedule.

238. General meetings subsequent to the appointment of a trustee shall be summoned by him by giving fourteen days' notice by post to each of the creditors who have proved their debts, stating the object of the meeting and the business proposed to be transacted thereat.

239. A general meeting may, however, at any time be similarly summoned by any creditor, with the concurrence, including himself, of one-fourth in value of the creditors who have proved their debts.

240. Any mistake made inadvertently by a debtor in the statement of his debts may be corrected with the assent of a majority in value of his creditors assembled at a general meeting similarly summoned by the debtor.

241. A trustee may be removed by a special resolution of the creditors assembled at a general meeting summoned for the purpose, and another trustee may be appointed in his place, by a majority in value of the creditors then present or represented. Where a trustee shall die, or where for any reason there shall be no trustee acting in the liquidation, a general meeting may be summoned in manner hereinbefore directed, and another trustee may be appointed by the majority in value of the creditors present or represented thereat.

242. The resolution appointing any such new trustee shall be registered with the registrar, and the certificate of the registrar in respect of the appointment of any such new trustee shall be conclusive evidence of his appointment.

243. Any creditor or creditors resident in foreign parts, the notice to whom could not have been received in sufficient time to enable him or them to attend or be represented at the general meeting thereby convened, may show cause to the court against the resolution being proceeded with, notwithstanding its registration; but the same shall not be disturbed unless the creditor or creditors do show or can prove to the satisfaction of the court that, had he or they been present and dissented from the resolution, the same could not have been carried by the statutory majority, and unless also the court is of opinion that it is unjust or inequitable that the resolution should be binding on him or them.

244. Proof of debt by any creditor shall be deemed conclusive evidence that notice of all general meetings, prior to and inclusive of that at which such proof is produced, has been duly given to him.

245. All debts must be proved prior to the payment of dividend thereon by the trustee.

246. Seven days at least before declaring any dividend under a liquidation by arrangement, a notice shall be gazetted by the trustee in the form given in the schedule, requiring the creditors to send to him their names and addresses, and the particulars of their debts or claims; and on declaring a dividend, a sufficient reserve shall be made by the trustee for such dividend upon all debts or claims notified to him in pursuance of such notice. The trustee shall be also deemed to have notice of the debts of all creditors whose names are inserted in the debtor's statement of affairs, and (except where any such debt has been adjudicated upon prior to the declaration of the dividend) a similar reserve shall be made in respect thereof.

247. Wherever the trustee shall reject the claim or proof of any creditor he shall give notice to such creditor by post in the form given in the schedule, and where the creditor is resident in the Colony of Queensland, the trustee shall be entitled to exclude from dividend any such claimant or creditor whose debt he so rejects, unless such creditor shall, within thirty days from the time at which the trustee's notice should have been delivered to him in the ordinary course of post, apply to the court to admit his proof, and proceed with such application with due diligence. Where any such creditor is resident beyond the limits of the colony such length of notice shall be given to him as the court shall order.

248. Except as before mentioned, the trustee shall declare dividends amongst such creditors only as have proved their debts up to the time of such declaration of dividend, and no creditor who has omitted to prove his debt, or to send to the trustee the particulars of his claim, or whose name does not appear in the debtor's statement, shall be entitled to disturb any such dividend, or to make any claim in respect thereof against the trustee; but upon proof of his debt any such creditor shall be entitled to receive the same prior to the payment of any further dividend to the other creditors.

Transmission by telegraph.

249. [Sects. 36, 38, 77, 91.] Whenever any person shall require the contents of any document to be transmitted by telegraph, he shall deliver a copy thereof to the registrar, who, after satisfying himself that such copy is correct, shall certify that it is a true copy, and shall seal the same and cause it to be delivered forthwith to the nearest telegraph office, with a direction under his hand to transmit the contents thereof as required. The fees charged for such transmission shall be paid by the applicant.

General provisions.

250. In any case not herein provided for, the court may fix such time and prescribe such manner for the doing of any act or giving of any notice, as shall in each case seem expedient.

251. Every official trustee in Brisbane shall give security by bond, with two sureties, to Her Majesty, for the due performance of his duties, to the amount of £1,000; that is to say, the trustee shall be bound, himself in the sum of £500, and each of his two sureties, to be approved of by the registrar, in the sum of £250. Every official trustee out of Brisbane shall give security in like manner to half the above amount.

THE following Bye-law, made by the Municipal Council of Mackay, having been confirmed by His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, under his Hand, in accordance with the 74th section of "The Municipal Institutions Act of 1864," the same is hereby published in the Government Gazette.

MUNICIPALITY OF MACKAY.

BYE-LAW No. 13.

For the Regulation of the Wharves and River Frontages vested in the Corporation.

Whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for regulating and managing the wharves and river frontages under the control of this municipality, and for establishing such dues and rates as shall be levied from persons making use of the same: It is therefore ordered, that from and after the date of this Bye-law receiving the assent of His Excellency the Governor, the provisions therein contained shall be and continue in full force and effect within this municipality.

1. The said wharves shall be open for the landing of any goods or merchandize from or on to any vessel or vessels, on every lawful day, from seven o'clock in the morning until five o'clock in the evening.

2. Any person or persons making use of any of the said wharves or river frontages which now are or hereafter may become vested in the said municipality, for the purpose of landing or shipping any goods, wares, merchandize, horses, sheep, or cattle, shall pay into the Corporation, or to such person as they may duly appoint to collect the same, all wharfage dues and rates demandable and payable thereon, as set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed. Provided always that no goods belonging to Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, shipped or landed for the public service by order of His Excellency the Governor for the time being, or any ship or vessel belonging to or in Her Majesty's service, shall be subject to any such wharfage rates.

3. The master of any vessel lying alongside such wharf or river frontage shall allow free passage to and fro across the deck of such vessel to all persons lawfully seeking such passage to and from any vessel or vessels on the outside of him, for the discharge of cargo or otherwise.

4. All and any goods so landed shall be removed by the consignee of such goods at his expense within forty-eight hours of their being discharged from such vessel, or they will be removed by the Corporation and stored at the risk and expense of such consignee.

5. The following shall be the time allowed for vessels to be at the Corporation wharves for loading or discharging respectively, should the berth be required for another vessel, viz :—Vessels under 50 tons, two working days; vessels over 60 tons and under 100 tons, four working days; vessels over 100 tons, six working days.

6. For the purposes of this bye-law, a vessel shall be considered as berthed at the Corporation wharf when any portion of such vessel overlaps any portion of the said wharfage, although all cargo to or from such vessel be conveyed across private property. Making fast any line on the Corporation wharfage shall also be considered as berthing any vessel to which such line may be attached. All vessels so berthed shall pay to the Corporation, or whom they may appoint, the sum of ten shillings per tide, for every tide during which they shall overlap, be attached to, or berthed at such Corporation wharf. Provided always that the Municipal Council, or any person whom they may appoint, may, on giving twelve hours' notice, cause any vessel so berthed to be removed from such wharfage.

7. The Municipal Council of Mackay may, if they deem it advisable, direct the tolls and wharfage dues demandable by authority of this bye-law to be demised or let to farm for any period not exceeding twelve months; and in order to carry out the various provisions of this bye-law, the said Council may appoint the said lessee to act as wharf clerk, and to employ such assistance as he may deem necessary, during the term of the said lessee.

8. All complaints of offences against these bye-laws shall be heard and determined in a summary manner by two or more justices of the peace; and no person or persons shall be convicted of any offence or offences, contrary to the provisions of this bye-law, in a summary manner, after the expiration of three months from the time such offence or offences shall have been committed.

9. Any person committing any act against, or in any way offending against the provisions of these bye-laws, or refusing or neglecting to comply with the provisions thereof, shall, on conviction thereof before two or more justices of the peace, be liable to forfeit and pay for any such offence a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds sterling.

RULES FOR THE STANTHORPE HOSPITAL.

NAME.

Name—No. 1—The Stanthorpe Hospital.

ELECTIONS.

Annual General Meeting.

1. An annual general meeting of the subscribers shall be held on the second Tuesday in the month of January for the following purposes:—The reception of the annual report and statement of accounts; the election of two auditors, a committee of ten, and treasurer; and the transaction of any business of which due notice may have been given.

Special meetings.

2. Special general meetings may be called at any time (the secretary giving two weeks' notice in the local newspaper of the day of meeting, and of the purpose for which such meeting is called), on the authority of the Board of Management, or upon a requisition signed by at least five subscribers, in which latter case a meeting shall be summoned with the least possible delay.

Qualification.

3. The annual subscription of one pound shall entitle the contributor to the privilege of voting at all general meetings, as well as of recommending for admission to the hospital one free and two paying patients, and two for out-door relief, during the interval extending from the time of payment of such subscription to the end of the current year. Annual subscribers of two pounds and upwards will be entitled to privileges in proportion during the same interval. A donor of ten pounds shall be considered a life member of the Institution, and shall be entitled to all the privileges belonging to an annual subscriber of one pound. All admissions to the hospital, however, shall be subject to the approval of the House Committee.

Payments of Subscriptions—Disqualifications—Mode of Voting.

4. All subscriptions must be paid in advance and no subscriber shall be entitled to any privilege unless the subscription be paid, nor any new subscriber unless his subscription shall have been paid for one month preceding. No paid officer of the institution shall have a vote in the management upon any occasion. Subscribers may vote either in person or by proxy. In the election of the general committee, auditors, or officers, the subscribers or their proxies shall deliver to the chairman a ticket with the name or names written thereon of the person or persons for whom they desire to vote; and the chairman having read it shall place it in a box where it shall remain until examined by scrutineers appointed by the chairman.

Proxies.

5. All proxies for absent subscribers must be themselves subscribers and produce to the chairman a written authority signed by the subscriber whom they represent, and such authority shall be in force only for the particular occasion for which it shall be given.

Contests.

6. In case of contest, the poll shall remain open for one hour after the delivery of the first vote. If the votes be equal, the chairman shall have a casting vote in addition to his vote as a subscriber.

Minimum attendance.

7. If at a general or special general meeting of subscribers there be not present within one hour from the time appointed, at least ten subscribers, no business shall be transacted, but the meeting shall be adjourned to the same day of the following week, at the same hour and place; and at such adjourned meeting four shall constitute a quorum.

Chairman.

8. The chairman of the Board of Management shall be chairman at all meetings at which he shall be present, and in his absence such chairman as the meeting may elect.

1. At every annual general meeting a committee of ten persons shall be chosen by ballot from among the subscribers, who, together with the treasurer and visiting surgeons, or other honorary medical officers of the institution, shall form a Board of Management, five of whom, being voting members, to form a quorum. Out of the committee of ten, the Board so constituted shall elect monthly, three members to form a House Committee. No person being a contractor or agent of any contractor shall be placed upon the Board of Management, and any member of the Board becoming a contractor or agent for a contractor, shall thereby vacate his seat. Election of chairman.—Meetings.—Proceedings.—Appointment of officers.—Annual meeting reports.

2. The Board shall at its first meeting after election, and before any other business is brought forward, proceed to the election of a chairman, who

The Board shall meet on the first Tuesday in every month, and at such other times as they may deem desirable, at the hour of four in the afternoon. At the monthly meeting, the Board will appoint the House Committee for the month, receive the report of the out-going House Committee, and transact the general business of the institution. The paid officers and servants shall be appointed and discharged by the Board. The Board shall present to the annual meeting of subscribers in each year, a report of the general condition of the institution, accompanied by a statement of the receipts and disbursements duly audited.

Vacancies.

3. In case of any vacancies occurring among the members of the committee of ten, or of the treasurer or auditors, the Board, through its secretary, shall forthwith call a special general meeting for the purpose of electing a person or persons to fill up the vacancy or vacancies.

Duties of House Committee.

4. The House Committee shall, so often as they may deem desirable, visit and inspect the institution for the purposes following:—To examine the state of the wards and stores of the hospital, to listen to any complaints; and to suggest what improvement they may deem requisite. To determine upon the eligibility of the applicants for admission, and the fees (if any) the patients should pay towards the expenses of the institution. To generally supervise, during their term of office, the whole internal management of the hospital, and, at the first meeting of the Board at the expiration of the month for which they were deputed to act, to make a full report of their transactions whilst holding office; also, they will check the monthly accounts as rendered by the contractors, in detail, with the diet books kept by the wardsmen, and submit the accounts, when so checked, to the Board of Management for payment. GRAMMAR SCHOOL SCHOLARSHIPS.

THE Queensland Board of Education award Grammar School Scholarships annually to deserving pupils of the Primary Schools of the colony.

2. Examinations for Scholarships are held simultaneously at some time during the first three weeks of December in every year.

3. The examinations for 1875 Scholarships will take place in December, 1874, at Brisbane, Ipswich, Toowoomba, Maryborough, and Rockhampton only, unless special application shall be made and approved for holding examinations elsewhere; but candidates may present themselves from any Primary School.

4. Nominations of candidates, by the principal teachers of their respective schools, must reach the Education Office at least one month before the date fixed for holding the examinations, and the nominations must be accompanied by a statement that the candidates are Primary School scholars, not exceeding fourteen years of age at the date of the examinations, that they have not been pupils at a Grammar School, and have been in fairly regular attendance at a Primary School for the previous six months, and have been Queensland Primary School boys for eighteen months.

5. Scholarships are tenable, during good behavior and the pleasure of the Board, for three years, and are of the value of Fifty pounds per annum each.

6. The examinations are held under the supervision of responsible officers of the Board appointed for the purpose. The questions are the same in all places. The candidates' papers must be anonymous, distinguished by a motto and number, and accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the name and age of the candidate, the whole to be forwarded under seal to the Secretary of the Board immediately after the examinations.

7. Successful competitors are entitled, through their parents or guardians, to elect the particular Grammar School at which they shall study; and, in the case of change of residence, or other sufficient cause shown, leave may be given for transfer from one Grammar School to another.

8. Unless otherwise ordered, the subjects of examination for Scholarships will be the same as those prescribed in the Board's printed regulations for boys who have reached the Fourth Form in a Primary School.

9. The number of Scholarships to be awarded in one year will be determined by the Board, and will not exceed twenty.

By order of the Board,
E. BUTTERFIELD,
Secretary.

The total balance will be paid when the entire contract shall have been completed to the satisfaction of the Government.

Should the contractor fail to proceed in the execution of, or to complete the work in the manner and at the rate of progress required by the Government, it shall be in the power of the Government, by a notice in the Queensland Government Gazette, to terminate the contract as far as relates to the work remaining to be done, and to enforce the penalties for the non-fulfilment of the contract; and all sums of money which may be due to the contractor, together with all materials and implements in his possession on the ground, and all sums of money, whether named in the Bond to be entered into by the contractor or otherwise, as penalties for the non-fulfilment of the contract, shall be forfeited to the Government, and the amount shall be considered as ascertained damages for breach of contract.

Attached to each Tender there must be a memorandum signed by the party tendering and two responsible persons as sureties, agreeing to be answerable for the due performance of the contract within the time stipulated, in the event of the Tender being accepted; and undertaking in that event, that they will severally execute and deliver, at the Office of the Crown Solicitor, in Brisbane, within ten (10) days from the notification of the acceptance of the Tender, a Bond to Her Majesty in a sum equal to twenty (20) per cent. on the amount of the Tender.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any Tender.

SPECIFICATION.

The course of the line to be marked out by the contractor, under the direction of the inspecting officer.

Any branches overhanging from trees beyond the distance mentioned, which, in the judgment of the inspecting officer, might endanger the line, to be removed.

In cases where tracks may become blocked, all fallen timber must be removed, leaving a cleared space of not less than twenty (20) feet in width, following the course of such track.

The top of each pole to be bored for the insulator pin, and served with a thick coating of white lead.

The poles to be not more than eighty-eight (88) yards apart, unless by special permission; to be sunk five (5) feet in the ground, placed in a perpendicular position, and well rammed with rubble and earth. At angles, or other places where required, struts, or supports of wood, to be supplied and fixed as directed.

Insulator pins (to be provided by contractor) to be of split ironbark, according to pattern supplied, and to be fitted as directed; the lip of the insulator to be not less than one inch from the top of the pole. The wire to be so stretched that the deflection between any two posts shall not exceed two (2) feet. Joints or splices to be made as directed, and the wire tied to the insulator with the binding wire supplied.

All material used in the construction of this work, or any part of it, to be of the best quality, and, together with the workmanship, are to be subject to the final approval or rejection of the Superintendent of Electric Telegraphs, or any officer appointed by him to inspect the same.
